Detwiler Decision Is Again Delayed

Council Meets Next Week For More Study Of Plan

The Detwiler agreement is still up in the air—but not as far as formerly.

City Council last night spent a business-like 4½ hours in a detailed, clause-by-clause study of the draft proposal for development of an ultimate $28,000,000 shopping, commercial, professional and social centre in the heart of the city.

But at 12:25 a.m. today it adjourned without reaching a vote, and agreed to meet again at 8 p.m. next Thursday.

At that time the Chamber of Commerce study of the whole project by a competent Edmonton economist will be ready for council's study.

Council received as information a detailed estimate by city commissioners on possible revenues, expenses, and profits of the development if it were built to its ultimate $28,630,000 value and rented fully the first year of operation, together with a second estimate of probable returns if only half the rentable space were completed initially.

$547,750 YEARLY

Edmonton should get an average annual return of $547,750 during the first 20 years of the scheme's operation.

This is based on a 69-year lease.

During the remaining 39-year period the city should receive $1,048,250 annually.

These are the estimates by Commissioners, in response to the request from aldermen at Monday night's special meeting on the Detwiler draft agreement.

FIRST-YEAR RETURN

Commissioners estimate the first year-revenue to the city would be $521,500, made up of $171,500 as the 25 per cent of net revenue in lieu of other city property taxes, $50,000 ground rent, and $300,000 business taxes.

Retirement of preferred shares during the first 30-year period would increase the 25 per cent of net revenue by $1,170 annually, giving an average of $247,750 in lieu of taxes over the whole period. This in turn would boost the annual expected total return to the city from $521,500 to $547,750 for the 30-year period.

The amount would increase $1,730 each year through retirement of preferred shares during the second 39-year period, so that the city during that period would receive an average of $748,250 annually in lieu of other taxes, bringing the yearly revenue to $1,048,250.

PROPERTY TAX

The city's estimated property tax for the project, if it were taxed at the usual rate, would be $415,600, commissioners said.

But as the buildings depreci-

Four Groups Give Backing To Project

Support for the Detwiler plan was received by City Council last night in letters from the Y's Men's Club, Dr. Robert Newton, University of Alberta president, from Edmonton House Builders' Association, and from the Appraisal Institute of Canada, Edmonton chapter.

Both the latter organizations unanimously endorsed the plan.

At its Tuesday night meeting the Y's Men passed a motion approving the general scheme as outlined publicly. "It is the club's hope that a satisfactory agreement will be arrived at between the city and First New Amsterdam Corporation to make it possible for the plan to be developed," they agreed.

'VOCAL MINORITY'

Dr. Newton, "as a representative of the unorganized citizens of Edmonton," says he is concerned "at the thought that efforts of an organized and vocal minority with special interests may kill the Detwiler scheme and all it means to the future of our city."

No one seems to dispute the urgent need of parking space, auditorium, and other public services inherent in the plan. "We have no experience or financial means to launch such a comprehensive project ourselves. Our abortive efforts to net even a civic auditorium is sufficient evidence of that," he says.

Main objection by the opposing group is that the city is not guaranteed enough revenue to offset tax concessions. "But this view neglects on the one hand the indirect profits likely to accrue from the enhanced attractiveness of the city to tourists to business to industry, to investment capital," says Dr. Newton.

DETERIORATION SEEN

"It neglects on the other hand the probable deterioration of property values and business in downtown Edmonton, if something is not done soon to solve the parking problem."

He points out that Edmonton is having greatness thrust upon it by its strategic position and the natural wealth of surrounding country. "Is it to fail in achieving its proper place through lack of faith and progressiveness in its citizens?" he asks.

Edmonton has completely outgrown its civic facilities. "Are we not ready to develop a centre commensurate with our new stature and our acutely pressing needs?

Those who suggest this could be done equally well by local enterprise and capital are merely indulging in fantasy.

"Surely we have the courage and vision to go forward NOW," says Dr. Newton.

Fires Attack Timber Area

Timber stands in a vast unmapped area north and west of Edmonton are being charred today as three forest fires eat their way through the district.

Northeast of Edmonton in the Lac la Biche area another fire which broke out almost a week ago is also damaging marketable timber.

Rains which have fallen in the area in the past 48 hours are believed to be aiding the 40-man crew of fire fighters battling the blaze.

But little rain fell in the district between Edson and Sturgeon Lake, where three fires are located burning in stands of marketable pine and spruce.

About 60 men are in the fire area but rugged terrain is hampering their operations, J. L. Janssen, chief timber inspector for Alberta said this morning.

ORPHAN OF THE FLOOD

MAROONED ONE WEEK on flooded farmland along rampaging Fraser River, about 50 miles east of Vancouver, this horse was rescued by Sam Grypuic, left, and Jerry McCurdy of Aggasiz, B.C. They lassoed horse from rowboat but had to jump in, clothes and all, to guide it through deeper water.

Noted Thoroughbred Out To Win Big Feature Race

WINNIPEG, June 23 — Pagan Star, the prairies' greatest thoroughbred, will be out to add to an already illustrious record at Polo Park Saturday afternoon when he meets a small but select field in the 25th running of the $2,500 added Western Canada handicap.

The black ace from the Alberta foothills who has earned $50,615 has been assigned top weight of 128 pounds in the one mile and 70 yard event.

The "Western Canada" will mark his initial meeting with the Manitoba leader, Fort Garry, who won the race in 1947 and 1948. Fort Garry will carry 122 pounds.

Edmonton's hope in the rich feature is Lee Williams' Franks Mistake who won the 1949 renewal. He will carry light weight of 114 pounds.

Rounding out the field are the classy Lord Fairmond with 120 pounds and Galion of Gold with 116 pounds.

An eight-race card will be presented at Polo Park Saturday with the first race going to the post at 2:30 p.m.

Shirley May Sure Of Success, In Channel Try

DOVER, England, June 23—(UP) —Shirley May France, Massachusetts schoolgirl, arrived today to start training for her second attempt to swim the English Channel.

As soon as she arrived she walked down to the beach to look at the 20-mile stretch of water whose tricky tides forced her to give up last year.

"I'm going to make it this time," she said.

Detwiler OKs Vote Delay

L. E. Detwiler approves City Council's postponement of a vote on his proposal until it considers the Chamber of Commerce submission.

He told the Bulletin early this morning, following the council meeting, that he is anxious that aldermen have a chance to study the Chamber's study of his whole proposal before next Thursday's meeting.

A competent local economist is being retained by the Chamber to examine all aspects of the draft agreement covering development of a $28,000,000 city centre.

"The Chamber is a most important body, and I think its considered opinion will be valuable to council. It will also have a beneficial effect on deliberations by the provincial utility commissioners, when they come to study the proposal," he said.

He said he will have the First New Amsterdam Corporation board, due to meet Monday on the Edmonton deal, adjourn its consideration of the matter until after next Thursday's meeting, "to see what happens."

FABULOUSLY FAULTY CAR'S CAREER CUT

SEATTLE, Wash., June 23—(UP)—It was the end of the road today for a 1926 automobile owned by the Rev. William E. Todd, a Negro pastor.

A safety test showed that it had no brakes, a slit tire with a rope tied around it to keep it from bursting, a hand-made wooden body, no fan, right, no exaust pipe, no rear bumper, no rear fenders, only one headlight, no horn, a hole in the muffler and a loose steering gear.

It did not pass the test.

Escaping Convict Killed By Bolt Of Lightning

MIAMI, Fla., June 23—(AP)—Lightning in Florida yesterday destroyed a church, killed an escaping convict and knocked down eight baseball players and an umpire.

Convict Angelo Massina, 30, was hit by a bolt while fleeing across a field near Winter Haven.

An eyewitness gave this account: He saw Massina running. Lightning darted about him but he threw up his hands and kept going. Lightning again flitted around him and this time he fell. The bolt ripped off the soles of his shoes.

Massina, with a companion, had jumped off a prison truck when it stopped at a traffic light. The other convict, Robert W. McKay, 28, was critically wounded by gun shot.

HIT IN WINDUP

Another bolt during a navy baseball game near Jacksonville knocked the umpire and eight players to the ground. None was seriously hurt.

Charles Webb was winding up to pitch when lightning struck just off the mound between second and third base. He was lifted off the ground. The game was called right there, in the eighth inning.

In Winter Haven, lightning hit a power pole, travelled under the street by underground cable to the Christian Science Church and started a fire. The church, built in 1928 at a cost of $75,000, was destroyed.

MOM AND POP PLAY THE RACES

MOM'S STAKE $40.55

Well, I didn't manage to make any money yesterday, but then I guess I can't win every day. I just had two good winners so I'll not grumble too loudly. There's some consolation in that Pop over there has been in a much worse rut. He needs a good holiday to break that streak of his. Better he should have stood in bed. But that's what he gets for listening to that pal of his, Rainbow Benny. He couldn't pick strawberries. Today I'm riding two to place on Fairola and tomorrow another deuce to place on Tally's Man.

POP'S STAKE $31.75

There's gloom in the household again today as I picked another loser yesterday at Winnipeg. Nothing seems to be going right these days. My Baby Broom made a gallant effort yesterday but didn't have quite enough to make it to the winner's circle. However, I'm going back today with a two dollar win bet on King Onslaught to see if I can't break this bad luck streak. Then tomorrow I'll try my luck with another two to win on Bird on the Wing—the way my money's been lately.

Touring Soccer Ace Breaks Arm

MONTREAL, June 2—(CP)—Reg. Flewin, star centre half from Portsmouth and captain of England's all-star soccer team, broke an arm in a fall during last night's international exhibition soccer game which England won from Sweden's Jonkoping 7-1.

At first it was believed only a sprain but as the British team went aboard the Empress of Canada for the home-ward voyage a doctor located the break.

Edmonton's Mayor Ill In Hospital

Mayor Parsons Has Slight Recurrence Of Chest Ailment

Recurrence of a recent chest ailment sent Mayor Sid. Parsons to the Royal Alexandra hospital today.

He is not seriously ill, his attending physician told The Bulletin at noon today.

The Mayor, who attended the special meeting of the council in the city hall last night, had to be excused as the meeting dragged on.

Early this morning doctors were called and his removal to the hospital ordered.

"The Mayor has improved considerably since he was admitted to the hospital this morning, but he is being detained for a few days for observation and treatment," his doctor said.

NO ALARM SEEN

"There is no cause for alarm at the present time in regard to His Worship's condition, and we have no reason to think that his ailment will get worse," the doctor said.

He described the Mayor's ailment as a recurrence of chest trouble which he experienced recently when he was hospitalized for a month.

"This is an asthmatic condition and is not in any way of malignant nature," the doctor said.

Thugs Steal Cab, Money

Holdup of an Edmonton taxi driver and the theft of his cab was reported to police by West End Taxis early this morning.

Despatcher Gordon Hodges told police that a company driver, Andrew Thompson, 12099-122 street, was held-up by two passengers outside Lacombe early this morning.

He said the two men had chartered the cab to go to Red Deer after stopping the driver at 97 street and 103 avenue at 2:30 a.m.

After getting last at Lacombe, the two men forced the driver to stop a few miles outside the town, taking $11 cash from him and driving away in the taxi.

The cab is a 1949 light green sedan. RCMP have been notified.

Steel To Start Rising On Macdonald Monday

Steel will start rising on the 16-storey Macdonald hotel extension Monday.

Three carloads of steel, delayed by washouts in the mountains, have arrived in Edmonton yards, CNR architect Louis Heeren announced today.

Unloading began this afternoon. Alberta Motor Express has the contract for hauling steel to the construction site.

A large power hoist, with a 90-foot boom, has been spotted in the basement excavation of the hotel extension.

TO TAKE 6 MONTHS

Mr. Heeren estimated that steel framework will take about six months to complete.

Western Steel and Fabricating Co. of Vancouver has the contract for steel construction.

Girders will be first raised on the north wall, fronting Jasper Avenue.

Ted Kroll Fires Sizzling Round In GPA Golf

COLUMBUS, O., June 23 — Ted Kroll of New Hartford, N.Y., uncorked nine one-putt greens and was six under par in ousting Ray Hill of Chicago, the 1949 medalist, 5 and 4 today in the first round of the PGA championship.

Defending champion Sam Snead, Lloyd Mangrum, Johnny Palmer and Jim Ferrier led a parade of favorites into the second round.

Three former champions — Vic Ghezzi, Bob Hamilton and Paul Runyan—went down in the first flurry but form generally prevailed as the field was slashed to 32. A second round will leave 16 survivors by nightfall.

Seeks Same Outlet That Alberta Wants

A new and powerful entry has appeared in the race to deliver natural gas to the U.S. Pacific Coast markets which Alberta also wants.

The Fish Engineering Corporation of Houston, Texas, it is learned, has started investigating the potential domestic and industrial market for gas in the Pacific Northwest, particularly in the Seattle, Puget Sound, Spokane and Portland areas.

There are the areas that a pipeline from Alberta would serve, along with British Columbia.

The group which requested Fish Engineering Corporation to make the survey are negotiating for gas reserves in the Rocky Mountain and other areas and hope to accumulate enough gas reserves for a major pipeline to serve the Pacific Northwest.

If a sufficient market is available, it is learned, the group is ready to build the pipeline and start delivering gas by 1952.

Th group is the third to enter the race for the Pacific Coast markets.

WYOMING READY

General Petroleum of the U.S.A., a subsidiary of Socony Vacuum, is undertaking a gas search in Montana with a view to proving up enough gas reserves to build a 700-mile pipeline to the Pacific Northwest.

Gas experts in the state of Wyoming are also eyeing the markets. The state has announced that it now has 4½ trillion cubic feet of gas and is ready to start exporting.

All three groups are aware of Alberta's export plans, it is learned, but are hoping to beat the province to the post.

MUST START SOON

It is estimated that it would take at least two years to build a gas pipeline from Alberta to the Pacific Northwest, and Alberta experts said that a start on a pipeline from the province must be made soon if Alberta gas is to get to the Pacific Coast markets soon.

If the U.S. markets are not available, the Alberta pipeline cannot be built, because it would be economically unfeasible to build a pipeline to British Columbia alone.

The Fish Engineering Corporation is one of the biggest firms in the pipeline industry. They are engineers and contractors for the $247,000,000 Transcontinental project to build a natural gas transmission system from Texas to New York. They are also working on a pipeline to transmit gas from Texas to Chicago.

Anti-Spy Legislation Tightened By Commons

OTTAWA, June 23—(CP)—The commons moved yesterday to strengthen Canada's anti-spy laws.

With opposition members urging the government to take even wider powers, the chamber adopted a bill amending the official secrets act to double the penalty for espionage, boosting it from seven to 14 years imprisonment, and empower firm steps against Canadians who commit treason.

It gives the government power to prosecute anyone owing allegiance to Canada—including an alien in this country for a short period—and to deal with Canadians who disclose official secrets even when beyond this country's boundaries.

NOT SUFFICIENT

Five members suggested that the legislation did not go far enough. They were John Diefenbaker (PC—Lake Centre), Donald Fleming (PC—Toronto Eglinton), E. D. Fulton (PC—Kamloops), Alistair Stewart (CCF—Winnipeg North) and Dr. Pierre Gauthier (L—Portneuf).

In the espionage debate, Justice Minister Garson said the government was making it an offence to disclose secret information outside of Canada.

It now would be considered an offence if the disclosure was made by a Canadian citizen or by a person who obtained the secret while he owed allegiance to Canada. Under the law an alien owes allegiance while he is within the realm of Canada unless he is protected by diplomatic immunity.

WORLD DISRUPTION

Mr. Diefenbaker urged the government to take action against "some" Canadians who he said had gone to Moscow to study at the International Lenin school, which had "world disruption" as its main object.

While protected by a Canadian passport, they were preparing themselves to "commit revolution" in Canada.

Mr. Garson said the government can and will prosecute persons who go to Moscow and disclose secret information, whether or not they are Canadians. But it could do this only if it had evidence against them.

CHEQUE FORGER GETS SENTENCE 16-320 YEARS

COLUMBUS, O., June 22—(AP)—A prison sentence of from 16 to 320 years has been given to a 72-year-old former convict.

John V. King, of Los Angeles, pleaded guilty yesterday to 16 charges of forgery and two of shooting to wound. He was captured last April 28 after shooting two constables as they sought to arrest him on a crowded city bus.

The prisoner boasted: "I can pass a bum cheque faster than you can cash your pay cheque."

Ont. Farms Need Men

Farm workers from the prairies are needed to help with haying and harvest operations in Ontario, and applications are now being received from those interested in this work.

F. H. Newcombe, secretary of the dominion-provincial farm labor board for Alberta said today workers accepted will pay only $10 towards the cost of the fare to Ontario, and on completion of the work, towards the end of August, tickets for the return trip will be available for $15.50.

Prevailing wages are about $75 a month with board. Applicants should be between 17 and 60 years of age and able to do farm work.

MET BY OFFICIALS

From Alberta workers will be sent to Ottawa or Toronto, where they will be met by officials of the farm labor service. Transportation to their destinations will be arranged.

Application forms are obtainable from district agriculturists in Alberta or from employment service offices of the dominion government.

Any information regarding these two persons should be passed on to the Red Cross, 606 Tegler Building.

Milk Theft Spurs Search For Bandit

LANGTON, Ont., June 23—(CP)—Theft of some milk, apparently by an elusive man later spotted by a telephone company employe, spurred the search today for a bank bandit who Wednesday shot and killed two pursuers.

A police-led posse, guns drawn, converged on the town line of Middleton and Houghton townships, near the village of Glen Meyer, about five miles west of this community.

The milk was stolen during the night from a well on the farm of Reuben Wells. Telephone lineman, Walter Stanson, reported today that he saw a man in white shirt and khaki trousers leap a fence and disappear into the bush.

Earlier, police intimidated they have a particular man in mind as they press the grim hunt.

HAVE HUNCH

Inspector A. R. Knight, one of several senior Ontario provincial policemen directing a posse here, said investigators have "a good hunch" about the fugitive's identity.

"The way the bank robbery was handled gave us a good idea who the man is," he told reporters. He declined to elaborate.

Detective Sgt. Oliver Borland, Toronto police fingerprint expert, found a clear set of prints on the windshield of the killer's car. These were to be checked as soon as possible at RCMP headquarters in Ottawa and FBI headquarters in Washington.

Police-robber, using the gun wiped out two pursuers as he made his getaway, apparently had outwitted 100 policemen, backed by gun-toting farmers and aided by airplanes, a bloodhound and walkie-talkie equipment.

He had gained little from the bloody foray that followed Wednesday's armed robbery of the Imperial Bank of Canada in this town 20 miles southwest of St. Thomas. Most of $23,000 taken was recovered in the abandoned automobile from which he slunk into the bush after cutting down the two men who attempted to stop him.

Theft Try Nets Jail

A young Edmonton man, Robin Williams, was found guilty Thursday in police court of attempting to rob parking meters.

He was sentenced to 60 days in jail. There was a report that he would appeal.

According to evidence presented before Magistrate S. E. Mills, Williams had been seen by police standing near several parking meters on June 13 in the vicinity of 101 street and 102 avenue.

He had a parcel sitting on the meter and appeared to be tampering with the mechanism, according to police. When he was approached, they found keys on his person which were capable of opening some meters.

In defence, Williams claimed it was "coincidence" that his keys fitted the meters. He said they were for his padlock on a toolbox he had had for eight years.

Police also produced slugs taken from Williams, but accused showed they wouldn't fit a sample parking meter. He said he used them for electrical work.

ate the tax would substantially decrease each year, so the average tax over a 40-year period would be estimated at $295,000.

They computed the estimated tax by first knocking the $2,000,000 for public utilities off the $28,000,000 "Then it is estimated that 70 per cent would be taxed at 49½ mills, or a tax of $413,800.

OTHER BENEFITS

But commissioners point out that the city will receive many other substantial benefits from completion of the project, which will be far greater than any direct revenues—regardless of the amount They say this is because of the overall effect the project will have in assisting maintenance of property values in the downtown business area.

Their report also gives detailed analysis of estimated operation of the project during its first year, as well as an estimate of possible revenue if only half the rentable floor space were completed initially. In the latter case the city would receive only $439,950 the first year, but the complete operation would wind up $3,793 in the hole

Highlighted by warm exchanges between L. E. Detwiler and Aldermen Fred Hannan and Dick Hansell, the meeting was council's first actual coming to grips with details of the draft agreement—and far more fruitful than Monday night's hectic session.

ITEM-BY-ITEM STUDY

After some preliminary shuffling on exactly where to start, aldermen agreed to go through the 30-page document item by item, after City Solicitor Tom Garside had outlined the city's responsibilities under the charter amendment granted this spring by the legislature.

Cut in length of the proposed lease from 40 to 39 years was announced during discussion. Commissioner John Hodgson said he had received a wire from the president of New Amsterdam Corporation in New York agreeing to the reduction.

BIGGEST OBJECTION

Biggest objections were raised over clauses in the agreement dealing with the 18-month option clause, and with the matter of the corporation's exemption from expropriation.

Several aldermen sought additional assurance from Mr. Detwiler that the city should not have to wait a full 18 months to see whether development would actually proceed.

The city solicitor said the agreement is one which definitely gives New Amsterdam corporation "all the discretion" for 18 months.

Mr. Detwiler said it would take at least 12 months to complete full working plans of the whole project, and they would have to be ready before tenders could be called. Another four months would elapse before contracts were let, and then if the bids were even a million dollars higher than estimated, revisions in financing would have to be carried out.

WANT GOOD JOB

"Our principals wanted ample time to do a good job, and with an outlay of $750,000 just to get the plans under way, you may be sure they will do everything to expedite things. After all, we have a big outlay and no income until the buildings are completed," he said.

"But within 12 or 14 months we should be pretty well able to tell you definitely whether the development will go ahead."

During discussion on the 18-month option period sparks flew between Mr. Detwiler and Ald. Mitchell.

The former was explaining the need for completed detailed plans before tenders could be called for construction. Ald. Mitchell said that, during the specified 18-month period, people who might want to build on nearby property would just have to sit back and wait until Mr. Detwiler actually signified his intention of proceeding.

"It's simply a straight promotion," Ald. Mitchell labelled the draft agreement.

"It is not—it's a business proposition proceeding on business lines," retorted Mr. Detwiler.

Ald. Hanna raised vigorous objection to lack of specific mention in the draft that the project would be exempt from local improvement taxes. All other property pays it, he said.

Commissioner Hodgson pointed out that it was the intention in suggesting the $20,000 annual ground rent, that local improvement taxes be considered included in the figure.

He explained it was arrived at by taking the present assessment of $750,000 on the four blocks' boosting it to $1,000,000, and figuring the current 49.5 mill tax rate against that.

25 PER CENT TO STAND

Mr. Detwiler said the 25 per cent of net revenue for the first 40 years would have to stand. "You can accept or reject it."

In response to a question from Ald. Athelstan Blaset, Mr. Detwiler said the corporation would be willing to be liable for damages if it did not go ahead with construction after the city gets the site all cleared.

Mr. Detwiler crossed verbal swords with Ald. Hanna, over charges to be made in the auditorium which would form part of the public service features of the development.

The city solicitor had pointed out that questions had been raised regarding the type of structures to be put up, and Mr. Detwiler had emphasized that construction would have to be of the best in order to get the project financed. But he balked at leaving it up to the "limited experience" of Edmonton building inspectors to pass judgment on its suitability.

Ald. Hanna questioned him on previous statement about auditorium charges, which prompted Mr. Detwiler to say he "didn't know about limited experience, in view of the statements" made by others on the same subject. He went on to suggest that, in connection with the building plan approval question, somebody might want them to put in "red door knobs."

"We are reasonable people," shot back Ald. Hanna.

"I don't know about that" responded Mr. Detwiler, "in view of what has been said about auditorium operation, specifications and prices."

SEPARATE AGREEMENT

The corporation is prepared to enter a supplementary agreement governing operation of the auditorium, said Commissioner Hodgson. It would give local musical, dramatic or other activities preference.

It developed during discussion of the proposed arcade passage under Jasper avenue and 101A avenue, that the city will still have to find an art gallery elsewhere.

Mr. Detwiler said the passage will be merely a space for exhibiting art works along the walls, and it would be free and open to the public at all times.

It would not be intended as either a public art gallery nor a suitable place for museum staff to operate.

Four Arrested After Cafe 'Donnybrook'

Two men and two women were arrested on charges of assault and wilful damage following a "donnybrook" in a downtown cafe last night.

Alfred Breland and Roy Nagle were each fined $15 on charges of wilful damage and ordered to pay damages to the cafe.

Breland was also sentenced to three months on charges of assault and Nagle was fined $25 or 30 days for assault. Charge against the women was withdrawn.

Police report they answered a call at 12:35 a.m. from the De-Lite cafe, on 97 street, where there was a fight.

They found James Denton, 10113-106 avenue, bleeding from the head. They said dishes were strewn all over the floor and a table upset.

MAN HIT WOMAN

Denton and three witnesses said the four persons arrested had assaulted Denton. Denton said the fight started when he complained to a man who hit a woman.

According to witnesses, the man had hit Denton on the head and a second man also assaulted Denton then two women came in and threw dishes at the complainant.

Cafe manager Mah Sing and two cafe customers corroborated Denton's story.

Taken to Royal Alexandra hospital, Denton was found to have head wounds requiring two stitches; nose and cheek cuts and a bruised back.

Investigating constables were J. H. Musa and A. Q. Osadehy.

Fraser Punches Breach In Dike

200 Ordered To Evacuate At CNR Divisional Point

Vancouver, June 23—The Fraser river, swollen by a night of rain, smashed its way through a small dike at Port Mann today, 20 miles east of here.

An evacuation order was issued to 200 persons along the river's bank, but few left their homes, and by 9 a.m. all had returned. The break came at 4 a.m.

Low-lying land was flooded, but the situation was not considered serious.

Port Mann is a Canadian National Railways divisional point on the south bank of the Fraser. The village has a population of 280.

OUTSIDE MAIN NETWORK

The district is outside the main network of dikes on the Lower Fraser river, but a small dike, one-quarter of a mile long, protects low-lying land on its outskirts.

At the same time, in southeastern British Columbia, water poured into low-lying sections of Trail and crossed the main street as the Columbia River neared its 1948 disaster level.

Six inches of water was reported in the living rooms of some homes in the Smelter City of 10,000 located 240 miles east of Vancouver. A dozen houses were evacuated and three were razed to trees as they would not be swept away.

The Columbia, which passes south through Washington and Oregon before spilling into the Pacific, was more than a foot above flood level at Trail, and was rising 14 inches daily.

EVERYONE FIGHTS

Trail flood controller J. V. Rogers said, "the water is pouring into low lying parts of the town, and has started to cross the main street. We're not going to let her pour in very far, though."

The main street ran along the river bank and joined Trail and suburban East Trail. Volunteers piled sandbags along the street to hold back the waters and engineers raised the level of the road.

A dike built after the 1948 floods crumpled yesterday. Rogers said. Tons of gravel were poured into the breach, and it was plugged by late afternoon. A truck carrying gravel crashed off the dike and plunged into the Columbia. The driver escaped unhurt.

"She looks like she will continue rising at the rate of 14 inches a day for a day or two at least," Rogers said.

MILLS ARE CLOSED

The Columbia River splashed over a three-foot dike defending three homes at Castlegar near Trail, but serious flooding was avoided. The river was still below the 1948 peak, but at progressive level two years ago there was serious trouble, Rogers said.

MATTERS OF CONCERN to the profession were under discussion today by members of Alberta Chartered Accountants' Association. Checking agenda are J. L. Kergan, vice-president, Drumheller; J. S. Simpson, president, Calgary and A. G. Burton vice-president, Calgary.

Community Life Groups Will Study Rural Living

Modern rural living will be the topic of three University of Alberta community life conferences to be held at northern Alberta centres in July.

Schedule for this year's conferences begins with Beaverlodge from July 5 to July 9, Bear Lake, north of Berwyn, from July 12 to July 16, and Gooseberry Lake, north of Consort, from July 19 to July 23.

Travelling groups of university department of extension officials, provincial and Dominion agriculturists, and co-operative representatives, together with district community leaders organize the conferences to study problems of rural communities today.

WIDE INTERESTS

Activities ranging from discussion groups on agricultural problems to volleyball and square dancing offer varied programs designed to stimulate interest in community affairs.

Daytime schedules are designed mainly for young people and women, with sports, films, youth roundtables, home economics talks, and even art exhibitions. Discussion topics on world affairs, farm problems and social relationships in the community will be held in the evenings.

Special speaker at this year's conferences will be Dr. Jan Buurma, Dutch sociologist, who is studying rural life in Canada under a UNESCO Fellowship. Dr. Buurma will talk on such topics as reconstruction problems in Holland and comparison of rural life in Holland and Canada.

CONFERENCE SITES

Community centre at Beaverlodge will be the location of the first conference which gets under way July 5. Organized to serve the south Peace River District, this conference is being held in co-operation with both Beaverlodge and Grande Prairie groups.

The second conference at the Bear Lake sports grounds begins on July 12 and will serve Fairview, Berwyn and Grimshaw areas. Bear Lake is approximately four miles northeast of Berwyn.

Gooseberry Lake camp site, eight miles north of Consort, has been the site of community conferences in past years.

Construction Of Refinery Speeds Up

Work on new $10,000,000 McColl-Frontenac oil refinery just east of Edmonton has shifted into high gear.

Grading and construction of foundations for tankage will start "immediately," company officials said today.

Foundation work for process units is also scheduled for early start, with Foster Wheeler Co. contractors from St. Catharines, Ont., already in the field.

Preliminary work on roads, railway sidings, utilities and services has been underway for two weeks.

OFFICIALS ARRIVE

Start of actual construction work follows visit here of A. G. Farquharson, manager of McColl-Frontenac's refinery department and arrival of C. J. Smith, construction project manager, and assistant Paul Betzner.

The latter two officials will remain in residence here until construction is complete. Setting up of temporary office and warehouse facilities is already underway.

The new plant will have a capacity of 5,500 barrels a day, officials announced. They said it will be fully modern in every respect and include new catalytic cracking plant for production of high grade gasoline.

About 150 men will be employed on the regular staff when production begins around the middle of next year, it was estimated. Company spokesmen emphasized most of the men would be drawn from local labor market, with only a few key technicians from outside.

Six Juveniles Are Arrested In Edmonton

Three juveniles have been arrested on breaking and entering and theft charges in connection with robberies from Edmonton firms.

Another three have been arrested for stealing from a car and for breaking and entering Clifton Drug Store, 11902-127 avenue, June 17. Det. James McMurray and Alex Stevenson made the arrests.

The five city firms burglarized in past six weeks were Mack's Place restaurant, 10165-100A street, Sports Inn, Johnson Electric, 11724-95 street, R. L. Hoare and Sons, 9013-100A avenue, and Cowan Electric, 11237-66 street. Det. Stan Hooper and Jack Langford made the arrests in these cases.

Vermont Musk Oxen

BETHEL, Vt.—(UP)—Vermont is in the market for a herd of musk oxen. A state committee of leading citizens concluded after a study that the animals would be perfect to stock sub-marginal hill farms. Their chief product would be a wool softer than cashmere, and longer-wearing because it does not shrink in hot water.

Fourteen universities or university colleges in the United Kingdom offer special science courses leading to a degree, certificate or diploma.

NEWEST BANK OPENING SET NEXT WEEK

Official opening of new Bank of Toronto building at Jasper and 100A street, will take place next Tuesday.

The opening will be attended by the bank's president, James L. Carson, Toronto.

To enable the general public to inspect the modernistic quarters, "open house" receptions will be held both Tuesday and Wednesday. For benefit of those unable to attend during the day, the bank officials will be hosts from 6:30 to 9:30 o'clock each of those evenings.

Mail Carrier Is Now Prexy

James R. Chettleborough, 63, who has been elected president of Federated Association of Letter Carriers, has been an Edmonton carrier for 21 years.

He was elected at the annual meeting in Toronto.

Mr. Chettleborough, of 12127 - 95 street, held executive positions in the Edmonton branch as well as serving for the past two years as vice-regional president for Alberta and Saskatchewan.

A native of England, he came to Canada in 1905, arriving in Edmonton the following year. During the First World War, he joined the 128th Regiment here, later being transferred to the 28th Canadian Regiment overseas.

Trapper Denies South Nahanni Jinx Stories

Discounting weird tales of "haunts" in the lonely South Nahanni Valley, veteran trapper Hugh Brodell today called the country "a lovely place."

Brodell, who has been living for the past four years in the Mackenzie Mountains, 30 miles from the valley, is in Edmonton with his wife on holiday.

He said she lived for a year in Dead Man's Valley, before they were married, and doesn't believe any of the weird stories.

He observed a man starved to death in the valley some years ago and that another named Pete McEwan was missing in the country north of Nahanni at the present time.

Don Wilson Weds Fourth Time

SANTA BARBARA, Calif., June 23.—(BUP)—Radio announcer Don Wilson 49, and Virginia Corbet, 43, were married here last night. It was the fourth marriage for Jack Benny's friend announcer and the first for Miss Corbet.

City Firm Gets Contract For Building

Contract for a new $230,000 waterworks building east of 92 street, south of the main CNR line has been awarded to Christensen and Macdonald contractors.

Commissioners and superintendent of waterworks recommended the firm be awarded the contract after studying bids submitted by 11 other firms. Bids ranged from a low of $230,000 to $250,000.

The building will be used as a warehouse and for storage.

Architect was Neil C. McKernan.

Two widely separated areas of the city were affected by temporary blackouts Thursday.

Lights in the Calder district were off for 20 minutes late Thursday when a light pole feeding into an aircraft repair plant caught fire.

Cause of the blaze was explained by C. Monaghan, chief engineer of the electric light department, as soot forming on the wires from locomotives in the Calder yards. Coated with soot the wires were later dampened by the light rain, causing a short at the top of the pole.

When a truck collided with a light pole at 8:30 a.m. at 81 avenue and 109 street lights were off for half an hour in the area from 78 to 82 avenue and from 105 to 109 street.

Industries In Alberta On Decline

Four Show Increase As 10 Drop Some In 1950 Production

Ten of Alberta's major industries showed production decreases to the end of March compared to the same period in 1949.

The information is contained in the monthly report of the department of industries and labor.

Increased business was noted in four other industries, in natural gas consumption and in bank clearings.

Production of packing plants declined four per cent in volume and seven per cent in value. Concentrated milk production was down 17 per cent in volume and 22 per cent in value.

Tonnage for coal produced decreased three per cent; gross sales of cement and cement products was down 12 per cent.

DROP IN VALUE

Forestry production showed a three per cent decrease in both volume and value. The number of fur pelts dropped 31 per cent in volume and three per cent in value.

Business of machine companies was down ten per cent. Construction contracts dropped by one per cent, and building permits decreased in value by 16 per cent compared to the corresponding period.

Petroleum production showed the biggest increase in industries in which an up trend was noted. Number of barrels produced increased by 40 per cent and the value of the production was up by 46 per cent.

A one per cent increase in tonnage of lime products was reported. Fishery production increased eight per cent in volume and 26 per cent in value.

Four mills reported 23 per cent more volume and showed a 25 per cent increase in value of products.

Gross sales of the wholesale trade amounted to $30,910,351 for the month, an increase of 11 per cent over the corresponding period.

Customs receipts were six per cent less than the amount reported for the corresponding period, but volume of bank clearings in Alberta during March, 1950, was $540,243,805, an increase of eight per cent.

Natural gas consumption amounted to 24,402,961 thousand cubic feet, an increase of 12 per cent.

Woman Injured As Truck Upsets On Highway

A woman was bruised when a truck carrying an X-ray unit collided with a car on the Calgary-Edmonton highway, near the city limits.

Mrs. H. P. Buchanan, 11426-128 street, suffered bruises and slight shock when the truck driven by her husband, an X-ray technician, overturned and landed upside down.

The car, driven by H. C. Bruns, 7118-105A street, was slightly damaged.

Mr. Buchanan, of the department of national health and welfare, was returning from x-raying Indians on the Cardston Blood reserve.

Peace River Oil Prospects 'Excellent' Says Official

Alberta may become a second Texas, R. G. Follis, chairman of the board of the Standard Oil Company of California said here today.

The American oil executive arrived today by private aircraft after a flying trip over the Alberta fields from Calgary north to Peace River.

"It is too soon to make any definite predictions. After all, the surface has only been scratched in Alberta," he said. "I think it is safe to say, however, that your reserves might prove equal to those of Texas."

PROSPECTS EXCELLENT

Possibilities of finding major fields in the Peace River district and country to the north are considered excellent, he said.

Several oil companies, including Standard, have recently taken up millions of acres in reserve in the northwest sector of the province.

Mr. Follis pointed out that Standard was one of the pioneers in Alberta oil and has obtained production in various areas in the south of the province.

CANADIAN PRESIDENT

The Standard board chairman was accompanied by George L. Knox, president of the California Standard Company, the Canadian subsidiary with offices in Calgary.

Also in the party was Gage Lund, director and vice-president of the American company, Standard Oil of California, and director Paul Pigott.

The party was welcomed at luncheon in the Macdonald hotel by Hon. N. E. Tanner, minister of mines and minerals; and deputy minister I. N. McKinnon.

Fortunate Decision

It is fortunate for Edmonton and the security of Edmonton business men and householders that Mayor Parsons, Chief Constable Jennings and Deputy Chief Constable Riddell propose to do something about the lamentable shortage of men in the police department. The Bulletin has urged for nearly two years.

Mayor Parsons has called for a detailed report on the present police strength. He himself declares that at least 20 additional men are needed at once on traffic work alone.

The actual need is probably double that figure. And only a close study by experts can determine just how many more patrolmen the city requires for satisfactory protection.

But a start has been made and action may be anticipated. Both Chief Jennings and Deputy Chief Riddell are facing this need in a realistic and co-operative way.

The readiness to face facts and to co-operate is a happy circumstance because many worried firms and householders were beginning to fear that Edmonton would have to acquire a sufficient force the hard way, that is to say in the same kind of breakdown in emergency that emphasized the weaknesses of the fire department.

For the police department has been overdue, of course, admirably efficient with an amazingly small staff.

But this city is known all over North America as a "boom town". And boom towns are notoriously atractive to the underworld.

As a matter of fact, the only reason Edmonton has not already been inundated with criminals is her comparative isolation geographically. Lawbreakers like to operate in localities that are close to other large centres so that escape is facilitated after major jobs.

But this comparative isolation is no guarantee of safety and, sooner or later, unless the police force is brought up to par, a crime wave will strike Edmonton like an avalanche.

There is simply no possible argument with the fact that in peaceful, small-town 1920 Edmonton had the protection of one constable to every 763 of population, while in these boom days Edmonton has the protection of only one constable to 1,292 of population.

There is said to be difficulty in securing recruits for the police department. There will always be difficulty in getting recruits until Edmonton pays salaries comparable to those paid elsewhere.

A recent wage offer to the Edmonton force would bring salaries for first class constables up to $220.65 a month.

That is a decided improvement. But potential policemen will always remember that Vancouver pays $251 and Victoria $243 for the same service.

These discrepancies must be ironed out.

No city can have an efficient police force without paying for it.

Jack Scott

He Shoots Rapids In Rubber 'Tub'

REVELSTOKE, B.C.—Yesterday a visitor passed on the information that four young Revelstoke daredevils were going to bob down the river in a rubber life raft from a point 17 miles north of the town. He suggested we go up and watch their progress from the highway.

At the 17-mile post we saw the foursome down by the river, preparing to launch their small craft. I scrambled down the steep bank for an interview, promptly got invited to sign on as a crew member and, on the theory of trying anything once, accepted.

We Prepare Our Life Raft

The four men in the boat were Ron Dickey, 22, Standard Oil agent in Revelstoke, owner and skipper of the frail craft and the only man aboard with rapids-running experience; Chic Cerolini, 21, a husky CPR fireman; Chuck Gallicano, 20, the 3-tyone Power of Revelstoke, and Sugar Durrand, 22, a CPR train clerk who sports the most decrepit, carrot-colored beard I ever saw.

They had their pants rolled up over their knees. Lamp black was smeared under their eyes as protection from the glare of the sun on the river. It was a hot, almost cloudless day.

The "boat" was an orange-colored, 12-foot, seven-man U.S. Air Force rubber life raft, a sort of oblong doughnut. There were three light paddles and a pump aboard to keep the ship inflated. A sheet of heavy canvas was between us and the river.

The skipper, a tall guy with unruly yellow hair, gave us our sailing orders.

"The Dalles are the only tricky part," he said. "When we get to them everybody kneel in the boat and hang on hard. She'll bounce around, but good, may ship a lot of water, may fill right up, but she won't sink and if you've got a good grip you're okay. Chic, you and Chuck man the pump. Sugar and I will paddle.

"Main thing to remember, whatever happens, is stick with the boat. You wouldn't last a minute swimming in the river."

We Shove Off With Laughter

Our morale thus bolstered, we shoved off from the public shore.

When the bow of the life raft nudged into the current our craft became a live thing. It swept suddenly downstream, pivoting slowly like a carnival ride. The heavily timbered slopes of the mountains that drop into the river became slipping by at an astonishing rate.

We hit our first fast water where the river narrows in a gorge some nine miles below our starting point. Here we saw an unbelievable sight. The surface of the river simply fell away in a smooth, downhill plane.

The life raft shot down this like a toboggan swishing down a slide, and then we were in a small maelstrom of whitecaps and whirlpools that sucked at the boat. We crouched in the bottom, hanging on hard. The water slapped at the rubber sides and cascaded in around our knees, achingly glacier-cold.

It was over in no more than a minute or two. We shot out the other side into calmer water. We all relaxed and lit cigarettes. There was a warm wind coming up-river, and at this point the trip seemed like a pleasant cruise.

But this was interrupted suddenly by a muffled roar ahead. We were rushing down upon the Petite Dalles.

We Encounter Another Fury

It took us no more than eight or ten minutes to go through that froth of water, but it might have been an hour. It seemed as if we would never get from the crazy grasp of the river.

Here in this narrow canyon the waves were four and five feet high. There was no anticipating them since there was no pattern, but merely an eruption of white-capped water rushing 50 to 60 feet deep through too narrow a channel.

The rubber life raft buckled alarmingly, now rising steeply at one end, then twisting and falling into a trough. Once we were caught in the octopus grip of a whirlpool and one end of our craft was sucked under so that the water spilled in, then we were tossed clear of its suction.

A log shot from under the surface as if it had been catapulted. The canyon walls spun around dizzily. We knelt in eight inches of water shouting as each new geyser boiled up and all of us shivering and frigid from the solid water that swept over us.

Then, as swiftly as it had begun, we were back in a broad, smooth channel and rushing along at upwards of 15 miles an hour through a wide, forested and winded, but feeling an exhilaration that was like a reward.

The rest was anti-climax. We swept on down the widening river above Revelstoke and beached the raft by the second tee of the town's golf course, to the considerable astonishment of a nearby foursome.

Torture Robbers Get Off Easy

The sentence of six months at hard labor imposed on two young men who robbed a Nestow farmer after torturing him with a broken saw is totally inadequate to the gravity of the crime.

The characterization of the brutal affair as "a very grave offence" is amazingly incompatible with the leniency of the sentence.

Robbery with violence has always been regarded as one of the major crimes enumerated in the Criminal Code and section 446 of chapter 146 of that volume says:

"Everyone is guilty of an indictable offence and liable to imprisonment for life and to be whipped who robs any person and at the time of, or immediately before or immediately after such robbery, uses . . . any personal violence to such person".

In other words, the penalty for robbery with violence stops just short of a capital offence.

And yet these two young men were given six months in a provincial jail!

According to published accounts, the trial judge apparently made much of the fact that the two accused were drunk.

We cannot see that this should make the slightest difference.

If liquor turns the minds of these men in the direction of hacking at a victim's legs with a broken saw, what is to prevent them getting drunk again and performing some similar act of savagery?

This type of sentence is no way to stop major crime among the younger criminals.

Attlee Should Consult Electorate

Prime Minister Clement Attlee's announcement that he will seek a vote of confidence in the Commons on his decision to stand aloof from the Schuman plan to pool western European coal and steel resources will commend itself to millions of Britons.

The decision, which represents an entirely new phase in British policy, calls for the endorsement, not of the commons, but of the British people.

The point at issue is not so much his failure to co-operate in securing western European unity as the fact that the Socialist government of Britain will make so much co-operative deals with continental governments that are not Socialist.

This tendency to the government policy was mentioned during the recent election by Conservative candidates. It was not a part of the Attlee platform.

Therefore, although British people may have suspected that the government would take this stand, the present situation offers the first indication that the government has actually committed itself to this point of view.

The enormity of the present position lies in the fact that the British government, through economic pressure, is trying to dictate to friendly powers in the matter of domestic political policies.

"You must be Socialist", says the Attlee government, in effect, "or we will not lend you our support in a step towards security".

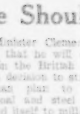
If this is not political blackmail, what is?

Surely the people of Britain should be asked if they approve of such high-handed and isolationist tactics.

PITCHING HORSESHOES

Old Watchmaker Discusses Miracles Of World Wars

As I've mentioned before, whenever I come down with a case of cheap wine which would put most dogs to sleep for a week, I get very religious and start doing my act as an Old Watchmaker. So that's what I was in August, 1914, when the Germans were advancing through Belgium to outflank the British Army at Mons. One night when it looked as if there was no stopping them, the sky suddenly turned yellow and across it—heading straight for the Jerries—rode three white figures mounted on white horses, the centre rider waving a golden-tipped sword. The enemy took one look, and that was the end of the advance."



Billy Rose

"Sounds like somebody was seeing things," I said.

"Thousands of people were seeing things—and they ranged from privates to generals. And later that night when several hundred of the Germans were captured, to a man they reported having seen the figures, too.

Bethune Incident

"The white horsemen didn't show up again until four years later," the watchmaker went on, "and this time they brought along a lot of their friends. It was during the last German push along the Bethune line, and when a Portuguese regiment cracked up under the artillery fire a handful of British machine-gunners were rushed in to plug up the gap.

"The gunners knew they didn't have a chance of getting out alive—all they could hope for was to keep the enemy busy until reinforcements arrived.

"Then came the miracle. Suddenly the German guns switched their range and direction, and began blasting a patch of ground several hundred yards to the right of the machine-gunners—an area that was completely deserted. And then half an hour later, for no discernible reason, the Germans turned tail and began to run.

"At first, the British couldn't believe their eyes; then they figured it was some sort of trick —although under the circumstances it didn't make military sense to bother with a trick. Finally the English sent out a reconnaissance squad, and it brought back fifty prisoners from various parts of the line.

"Each prisoner was examined separately and, according to Captain C. W. Haywood of British Intelligence, each one told exactly the same story.

White Cavalry

"When the Portuguese regiment retreated, the Germans began to chase after it and only stopped when they saw a detachment of cavalry riding forward from the Allied line to outflank them. This confused them because, for one thing, cavalry had long been obsolete on the Western Front and, for another, every member of the detachment was dressed in white and riding a white horse.

"The artillery was immediately ordered to bombard the horsemen, but when the men in white continued charging across the open field despite the curtain of shells, the Germans got panicky and fled."

"How about the English gunners?" I said.

"That's the strangest part of it," said the watchmaker. "Captain Haywood made careful inquiry among his men but he couldn't find a single British soldier who had seen anything in the empty space to the right—except space."

Takes Time With Details

"It would have been all right," I said.

"Maybe," said the watchmaker. "But you would've changed your tune if you'd been in the shoes of the 10 thousand Englishmen who'd been fighting for all they were worth to keep the Germans from breaking through to the sea when they suddenly found themselves in the wide-open spaces of the unoccupied territory. Naturally, they were dazed by the whole business, but it didn't take them long to realize that the Germans turned tail and began to run.

"Take your time with the watch and details," I said.

"Well," said the old geez, "the first time the phenomenon appeared was in August, 1914, when the Germans were advancing through Belgium to outflank the British Army at Mons. One night when it looked as if there was no stopping them, the sky suddenly turned yellow and across it—heading straight for the Jerries—rode three white figures mounted on white horses, the centre rider waving a golden-tipped sword. Letters to the Editor

Canadian Flag

Editor, Bulletin—I have read several good letters in recent issues of the Edmonton Bulletin in regard to a flag for Canada.

Canada has taken her place among the nations of the world; her brilliant war record, her amalgamation of nations comprizing all creeds and races; Canadian born and raised, workers in her great industries, contributors to her great wealth, who spend their energy and money in her advancement.

She is a splendid, virile young nation, worthy indeed to take her place among the nations of the world.

Why has she no distinctive flag?

Whatever design that might be chosen is not so important as long as it is distinctively Canadian. Surely we are not so devoid of ideas that we cannot think up something appropriate as an emblem of our nationhood.

I fancy I can hear the old cry, isn't the Union Jack good enough? With all due respect to the British flag, no it is not. Canada is a nation worthy of recognition in her own right, and deserving of her own distinctive flag.

She has veterans of two wars and these veterans are a mixture of peoples of many nations born Canadians; we cannot raise flags of all nationalities in respect to these men who served Canada during the wars. The effect might prove quite colorful if not quite practical.

I would like to see many letters published in regard to this subject, as I think it is important enough to warrant the attention of all true Canadians.

Flying Saucers

Editor, Bulletin—In a recent issue of this column a correspondent asked for information about "flying saucers."

It may interest him to know what is said in this respect by Mr. Kenneth de Courcy, editor of "Intelligence Digest," whose concise, dispassionate and political bias-free review of world affairs throughout many years has proven extremely accurate; and, therefore invaluable in analyzing world trends.

In October 1947 Mr. de Courcy referred to Soviet progress in the department of rockets and rocket-like weapons. He stated, "Amongst those missles is one of almost phenomenal capacity, speed, and distance. It is some kind of rocket the flight of which is maintained by the firing of a series of successive time charges. The explosion of each propels the missile forward at an increasing speed. At the moment of explosion a disc-like object is ejected with great force—the equivalent of an empty cartridge shell.

These discs are belived to be harmless and generally disintegrate before reaching the ground."

This would seem to be the most sensible explanation yet offered of the many and weird varieties of "saucers" believed to have been seen.

The various observers have described.

These objects are round and luminous and have a tendency to vanish into the air without having caused any harm.

These missiles and other ghastly weapons are now a matter for scientific speculaiur but operation in deadly earnest we may well be humbly thankful that "The battle is the Lord's and that no weapon formed against His elect shall prosper.

Personal Question

Editor, Bulletin—What is your age?

Some folks would say you're as old as you feel, or as old as you look, while others may say, "You can't fool old Father Time."

People who do not wish to tell their birthdate have good logical reasons for keeping the secret—perhaps for professional or romantic reasons, or just feel that they think it is unnecessary.

Ladies are the secreta keepers. Since modern conveniences have made life easier, women can put more time on ways to stave off the years.

Some women may say, "Let Nature take its course—ce naturel." Other women have another opinion — that Nature has too many other things to take care of. Thus, they with daily attention, look youthful, even though the years slip by.

What is your age? Some folks say, "It's a question I would not ask my grandmother." It is very personal. If someone divulges the information, accept it. But otherwise wait for the obituary.

PRAIRIE ANNIE.

Support For UN

Editor, Bulletin—Where is the support for the United Nations, and encouragement to Mr. Trygve Lie?

The furnishing of the new UN Permanent Headquarters is under way—"the centre of man's hope." The Secretary-General has a bright new agenda for discussion by the nations' delegates that may bring about the brotherhood of man.

Let us pray that the "cold war" blasts lessen as the General Assembly and Security Council meetings draw near.

Canadian Flag

Editor, Bulletin—In reply to a letter in Monday's Bulletin by H. M. L. re a Canadian Flag.

It's people like you, H. M. L., who have no more grey matter than an adolescent who will fall down and worship anything.

As for your smart remark referring to the South of Ireland, how low can you get? And to these dear little children to whom you would give a small pail and spade. I presume you mean the veterans of two wars who fought on the Beaches of Normandy. Maybe they did build little castles to save your neck and mine. I do not know.

As you mentioned in your letter, had it not been for those who fought under the Old Flag in 1914 and 1940 (and who alone) saved us. My Moronic minded friend, where were our glorious allies all the time this was going on?

Fellow Canadians, I am so disgusted, I cannot be bothered writing any more. My advice to you, H. M. L., is to go to the South of Ireland and get properly educated as to the true meaning of Independence and have her own flag so that all her dear little children can build their little castles and stick the new flag on top. Long May it Wave!

R. A. KROGH, A CANADIAN, 9739 - 92nd Street.

Happy Hummers

Editor, Bulletin—There is much discussion about humming all day being monotonous.

One who hums, must be very happy. It is much better than nagging.

I believe some folks enjoy a good fight better than sweet music and of course singing at such a time can be most annoying because you have to sort of cooperate in this fighting business.

It is best to sing when alone or at any rate when the man of the house is in the singing mood, otherwise just look for a better time.

As for taking the bark out of the dogs at night, the old saying goes this is a free country, our aggravations and peeves are personal. It almost calls for a court case to decide whether a dog is misbehaving.

People love their dogs. Fido is not bad, he is just suffering from insomnia.

THE QUESTION—Do you believe Edmonton restaurants are as hygienic as they should be?

MAURICE TORHJELM, 10316-124 street, carpenter: I believe the restaurants I frequent are quite hygienic but it all depends on what section of the city one eats in. So far I haven't caught any ailments by eating out.

MRS. OLIVE TORHJELM, 10316-124 street, housewife: They are not so clean as they might be. Some freshenings-up by restaurateurs would certainly do no harm.

D. W. TAYLOR, Port Arthur, Ont., salesman: I have no complaints. They are certainly a lot better than those where I come from.

ETHEL MACKAY, 10202-99 avenue, typist: I eat out a lot and am rather disturbed at the number of cracked cups and glasses in use. Something should be done about it.

J. M. PATTERSON, salesman: I haven't been in this city long but from what I have seen I would say that the restaurants are pretty clean.

MURIEL GRAHAME, 10202-99 avenue, stenographer: I think they can all stand with regular inspection from a health officer. Many restaurants that I have eaten at seem far from hygienic.

How It Started

When candlelight was expensive people went to bed early unless there was something worth staying up for. When the entertainment was not worth keeping the candles lighted, "the game was not worth the candle."

Looking Backward

1890—60 Years Ago

Private sources in Ottawa confirm a rumor that a speculative syndicate in the East has purchased the Indian reserve on the south side of the Saskatchewan opposite Edmonton. Townsite terminal of the Calgary and Edmonton railway will be located on the reserve.

1900—50 Years Ago

Pekin: Serious anti-foreign outbreaks have resulted in massacre of hundreds of native Christians within two miles of the Chinese Imperial palace. Some of the finest buildings in the eastern part of the city have been burned.

1910—40 Years Ago

Overly, N.D.: Chapman, the Edmonton wife slayer who escaped from a train near here last week while on his way to Oklahoma to face murder charges has been captured.

1920—30 Years Ago

The public school board has decided to appoint an inspector of city schools.

1930—20 Years Ago

Early returns in yesterday's general provincial election show the Brownlee government returned with 36 seats, Liberals hold seven and Conservatives four, Labor three, Independent three, and 11 seats are still in doubt.

1940—10 Years Ago

New York: Brown Bomber Joe Louis won a technical knockout over Arturo Godoy when referee Billy Cavanaugh stopped the bout.

Orphan To Glamor-Girl Tale Told In New Film

Adam and Evelyne now showing at the Varscona, tells a gay, romantic story of a pigtailed orphan girl who is suddenly transplanted into smart London gambling society.

"I'M PULLING for you" . . . says Marie Wilson in movie stunt being staged in conjunction with world premiere of latest movie, "My Friend Irma Goes West," in Las Vegas, Nevada, June 26. During premiere celebration shapely actress will draw name of some newspaperman or radio commentator from bowl each time she pulls slot machine. Whatever name she holds when she hits the jackpot will receive a $500 savings bond and complete western outfit.

JACOBY on Canasta

By OSWALD JACOBY

When you freeze the pack, your chief object is to prevent the opponents from getting the discard pile. In many situations, you do not expect to get the pile yourself. Sometimes you hope to meld before either side gets the pile, in other cases you hope to use up the cards of the stock pile before either side can get the discard pile.

When you freeze the deck very early in the play of a hand, you cannot expect that the hand will come to an end very soon. It is only reasonable to expect that one side or the other will manage to get the discard pile sooner or later. If you freeze the pack at such a time, you must be sure that you or your partner will get the pile rather than the opponents.

When you freeze the pile early in the play, it is usually because the opponents have made their initial meld and your side has not. However, it is not always wise to freeze the pack in this situation.

For example, suppose one of the opponents takes the first large discard pile and makes his initial meld. If he manages to keep about 20 cards in his hand, it would be very foolish to freeze the pack against him. It would be very difficult to stop him from getting the pile in a very short time. The reason is simple and logical; with 20 cards in his hand, he has far more pairs than you or your partner have with only 11 cards in your hands.

In other words, you freeze the pack not only because the opponents have made the initial meld, but also because in so doing they have reduced the number of cards in their hands. For example, an opponent with only five cards in his hand has a much smaller chance of getting the discard pile than you have when you hold your full hand of 11 cards.

Even this is not the full story. It is dangerous business to freeze the pack when you need 120 points for your initial meld. You may feel confident that you can keep the opponents from getting the discard pile for several rounds of play, but can you also be sure that you can accumulate 120 points during that safety period? If not, the pack will eventually get away from you.

★ ★ ★

Q—My score was over 1500 points but then went below again as a result of a losing hand. Do I still need 10 points for the initial meld, or do I go back to melding 50 points?

A—When your score goes below 1500 points, you go back to needing only 50 points for your initial meld.

Q—When a player melds out, is he entitled to add 500 points to his score if he holds four black threes?

A—No. There is no special bonus for black threes. Nevertheless, they are very useful cards and are well worth having.

★ ★ ★

Q—Does the canasta have a value besides its bonus value? In other words, are the seven kings in a canasta also counted for 70 points in the card count?

A—Yes. You get 500 points as a bonus for the natural canasta of kings. Then you also get 70 points for the card count of those seven kings.

DEATH-BED PROMISE

Adam, fulfilling a death-bed promise, sees daughter, Evelyne at an orphanage. She greets him as her father and he agrees to take her to his home.

He realizes Evelyne should be told the truth but he and his manservant (played by Edwin Styles), shirk the duty. Eventually Adam's girl friend informs the orphan.

Heartbroken at learning the truth, Evelyne conceives an intense hatred for gambling. Adam realizes that his profession must be concealed from her.

FINISHING SCHOOL

She is sent to a finishing school in Switzerland and for the next two years all Adam and his manservant see of her is a succession of blurred photographs.

What happens when after two years, a chic, self-possessed and very beautiful Evelyne returns to London, provides high standard entertainment studded with plenty of action and love interest.

A J. Arthur Rank presentation, the film was produced and directed by Harold French.

For the first time talented British stars, Jean Simmons and Stewart Granger are teamed together, she as the orphan, he as a professional gambler.

In the film, a dying Chris Kirby confesses to Adam Black (played by Granger) that, because he had been a failure he had used Adam's name in writing to his daughter.

Earl Collects Pin-Ups, Too!

LONDON, June 22.—(Reuters)—Vice-Admiral Earl Mountbatten, a cousin of the King, admitted yesterday that his is as other men. His first private art collection consisted of pictures of pin-ups in scanty clothes.

He was speaking at a ceremony to mark the opening of an exhibition of war-at-sea pictures presented to the National Maritime Museum by artist Norman Wilkinson.

Cyclist Dies

ROCHESTER, N.Y., June 23—(AP)—Howard S. Baker, 79, who pedalled the same bicycle for more than 121,000 miles on vacation trips throughout the eastern half of the United States and Canada, died yesterday.

Saving Campaign Said Wasteful

LONDON, June 23.—(Reuters)—For three years Londoners have been pursued with appeals to "save more water."

Then London's municipal water authority decided—with a bit of jogging from the government—to look into its own "waste." It found that those "save water" appeals cost £15,000 ($46,500) a year. "Too much," it said, and decided to drop the campaign.

Fire Danger Halts Voyage

NEW YORK, June 22.—(CP)—The United States coast guard refused yesterday to let the Norwegian liner Svalbard sail for Rotterdam with 600 student travellers from the United States and Canada, claiming the ship is "a firetrap."

A spokesman for the coast guard's marine inspection department said the Svalbard "will not be allowed to clear with American passengers" because it "did not comply with regulations for the transportation of passengers."

The 5,800-ton vessel had been chartered by the National Student Association for $200,000 to provide passage for the college students. The NSA is a non-profit, non-partisan service organization which represents some 300,000 students.

One of the students was Fay Parker, 20, of Vancouver. She was gaily dressed and wore a bright corsage. Miss Parker said she had relatives in the New York area and will stay with them.

Calgary Doctor To Open Office

BARRHEAD, June 23.—Dr. H. M. Horner will open an office in the Nilson building.

The interior of this building will be renovated as soon as possible. The doctor expects to begin his practice soon as his equipment arrives from Calgary.

Dr. Horner is a Calgarian and graduated in Medicine from the University of Southern Ontario.

There are now four doctors in Barrhead, although one has been ill.

The skeleton of the oldest known horse is estimated to be 45,000,000 years old. Standing 11 inches high, the fossil was found in Wyoming.

Inside Hollywood

By Bob Thomas

HOLLYWOOD, —(AP)—So society kid Hogan, who is more than slightly allergic to work, goes to work at a job for which he is seemingly quite suited—that is, playing a Damon Runyon character.

Now I hasten to add that society or kid or let's call him Hogan was actually what he calls a "buddy-pal-chum" of the deceased writer. He looks like a Runyon character and sounds like one.

The fact that Hogan is working may cause some large tears around Lindy's because Hogan has long been an apostle of doing as little labor as possible. He figures a man should retire the first 50 years of life and work the rest.

NOW A WORKER

Now Hogan has passed the half-century mark so that puts him in the working class. Even so he does it Hogan-style, by that I mean he works at the $10 window at Chicago race tracks in the daytime and at similar pari-mutuels at harness tracks by night. That way he works twice as hard for six months and then loafs the other six months of the year.

Hogan is cutting into his vacation to do a job at $125 a week for the Paramounts. Having copped a load of lettuce with "Sorrowful Jones," the studio is putting its Mr. Robert hope into another Runyon opus, "The Lemon Drop Kid."

"I'm helping with the script," explains Hogan himself. He will also play a role in the flick.

Now Hogan's real name is Salvatore de Lorenzo but he gets the Kid Hogan from a sports writer and the society because his first fight is for a society charity.

THEY DIE BROKE

After quitting the fight game in 1924, Hogan takes his time about finding his mission in life.

Hogan finally takes up as a half-year mutuel clerk, having found out the hard way what his pal Runyon expressed many times. That is that all horse players die broke.

"You got to go broke," he says. "One type that sometimes might make some money is them people who bet $10,000 or $20,000 on some horse like Citation to show. We call them 'bridge-jumpers.' If the horse don't show, they jump off a bridge somewheres."

Woman Struck, Killed By Train

CRESTON, B.C., June 23.—(BUP)—A woman died in hospital yesterday shortly after a Canadian Pacific Railway passenger train struck her at Creston, B.C. railway yards.

Mrs. Nina Bakken, 58, was crossing the tracks when a slow-moving westbound train struck her. She died in Creston hospital.

Most Recent Paper Starts on String

By Marjorie Jones
Provincial Editor

Young Ed Arrol, editor and publisher of the Redwater News, and his wife, Mary, are about the most enterprising newspaper people in the business these days.

The two have opened a tiny shop in the oil town and are turning out smartly a mimeographed newspaper twice a week.

★ ★ ★ ★

They started out in February by publishing three times a week but have recently reverted, after a weekly published only once a week.

At that it will be quite a chore for them. They must gather both news and advertising, type and stencil it and turn it out on a hand operated machine.

They even turn out hand bills, also mimeographed.

They've got great plans and with initiative like that they will probably end up by owning a share in the New York Times, and more power to them.

Alberta Shorthorns are in the news, the Shorthorn World, that is, published in Illinois.

A long, comprehensive report on the excellent Shorthorn herds in the province, naming some of the many champions, is given and except for a few misspelled names of towns and people should make Shorthorn men quite happy by the kind words.

Breeders Off on Tour

Breeders of the glossy, black Aberdeen-Angus cattle, will start out on a two-day tour today.

They will leave Sandy Lake, near Ellerslie, visit farm of Starko and Sons, Chipman; where they will have lunch, and proceed to the W. E. Cross farm, Vermilion, to see some of the prizewinners in that herd.

That in itself will be a treat to Angus men.

Back to Edmonton that evening they will tomorrow have a look at the University herd in the morning, then leave for Old Hermitage Farm.

★ ★ ★ ★

Old Hermitage Farm is a by-word in the Aberdeen Angus world, and there they will have lunch, conduct their business meeting, judge cattle and an evening of entertainment will be provided.

Sounds like fun.

This is the third such tour, Jack McBride, Benalto, secretary of the association informs us, and he looks for more interest this year and extends an invitation to anyone who might be interested in Aberdeen-Angus cattle.

★ ★ ★ ★

The Lethbridge experimental station sent us an interesting item this week on effects shelterbelts on the farm of Craig Pierce of Drumheller, made on yields.

Government Men Cautious

The experiment is only a year old and the station experts are a bit hesitant to make much of a comparison but they say that:

"From general observations this year the crops in the shelterbelt area, appeared to germinate more evenly and would yield more than 30 per cent more grain than the crops outside the shelterbelt area."

★ ★ ★ ★

Mr. Pierce makes no bones about it though. He thinks, without reservation that shelterbelts have increased yields.

He should know. He had established shelterbelts on about one section of his farm.

Veteran Killed Near Barrhead

BARRHEAD, June 23. — Walter Carstairs, about 60, was killed in a car accident south of Barrhead Friday.

Mr. Carstairs, a veteran of First World War and a home guard during the second war, was driving his wife and two friends home about midnight Friday when the car door swung open and in trying to close it Mr. Carstairs lost control and the car upset and rolled in the ditch. Mr. Carstairs was pinned beneath it and help had to be obtained to lift the auto.

He died in Mayerthorpe hospital six hours later. Funeral will be in Edmonton and conducted by the Canadian Legion.

LOCKER PLANT BEING BUILT

REDWATER, June 23. — Construction on new locker plant at Redwater began last week.

Plant will cost $15,000 and contain 216 units.

It is owned by L. P. Lavigne of Edmonton.

2,000 Entertained At Mannville

MANNVILLE, June 23.—An estimated 2,000 attended Mannville's first stampede held last week.

Under the managership of Art Ginther, of Innisfail, riding events were run off. A street parade was led by Clandonald Pipe Band and featured cowboys, cowgirls and Indians.

The exhibition fastball game between Mannville and Lloydminster was won by Lloydminster, 3-1.

Two Injured As Cars Collide

RED DEER, June 23.—An accident, four miles north of Sylvan Lake Sunday evening, resulted in Donald J. Rae, Bentley, receiving a fractured collar bone and Marshall S. Dawson, Bentley, a bruised forehead.

The car in which they were driving swung into the ditch when it met another vehicle over the brow of a hill.

Teacher Honored By School Class

WHITECOURT, June 23—Whitecourt School and community Wednesday honored Miss Audrey Herd, primary teacher here for the past two years.

The senior students were hosts to 60 parents and friends at a tea held at the school.

Presentation of a dressing table set and a purse of money was made to Miss Herd by C. A. Weekes, school principal.

Miss Herd leaves to take a position with the Edmonton city schools in September.

Also honored were Miss Nina Dunkin, and Miss Simonne Borle.

Plastered Acts Like It

BOSTON— (UP) —Turfmen were not surprised when a horse racing at Suffolk Downs was disqualified for jamming other thoroughbreds on a turn as it weaved erratically across the track. The horse was Plastered, a son of Pass Out, out of Wineup.

City Remains Dryest Spot In Province

The unlucky Edmonton district is still Alberta's most rainless area —and the weatherman said no precipitation is expected in the near future.

Anxious farmers in this area, who said they must have rain in the next two weeks to save crops were cruelly teased yesterday when a scant .06 inches of moisture fell here while the rest of the province was enjoying a good soaking.

The margin by which the crop-saving precipitation missed the Edmonton area was mockingly slight. Rocky Mountain House and Penhold had good rainfalls, almost two inches fell at Lac la Biche and two inches at Vermilion.

WHITECOURT GETS RAIN

Even Whitecourt to the west, the direction in which the "dry belt" extends, had more rain than Edmonton.

Today's forecast is cloudy and cool, winds northwest 15 m.p.h.

Expected high is 60 degrees.

Yesterday the thermometer reached a muggy 65 at 1:30 p.m., with overnight low of 43 recorded at 5 a.m. today.

General trend promises slightly warmer weather for the weekend, but nothing to compare with last weekend's brilliant sunshine.

Ferry Service Halted by Floods

RED DEER, June 23.—Swollen rivers are playing havoc with ferry services.

According to F. B. Connors, District Engineer of Public Works, ferries over the Red Deer river at Munson, Morin and east of Trochu are not operating, or at best will operate intermittently and not at night; ferry west of Bowden, operation doubtful; at Barrymore, north of Breton, intermittent service.

It is not expected that normal service will be resumed until mountain floods subside.

Mrs. O. Schoening Dies at Wetaskiwin

WETASKIWIN, June 23.—Mrs. Otto Schoening, 87, who had lived in the Wetaskiwin district since 1903, died Sunday.

She is survived by one daughter, Miss Mabel Schoening and five sons, Otto, Harry, Clarence, Carl and Oscar, all of the Wetaskiwin district, and one brother in the United States. Her husband and one daughter predeceased her.

Funeral services conducted by Rev. M. J. Parr will be held at the Campbell Funeral Chapel on Thursday, at 2.00 p.m.

Tiny Star Island Creates Interest

May Give Astronomers Clue On How Universe Evolved

By Joseph L. Myler
Exclusive to The Bulletin

WASHINGTON, June 23 —(UP)— Space-exploring astronomers yesterday reported discovery of two dwarf galaxies which may give clues to how the universe of stars evolved.

One of the newly-sighted star groups is the smallest "island universe" ever found. It is 1,500 light years across, a midget compared with our own Milky Way galaxy, which is 100,000 light years in diameter. The smallest galaxy ever seen before is 3,000 light years from edge to edge.

A light year—the distance light travels in one year at 186,273 miles a second—is about 6,000,000,000,000 (trillion) miles. The smaller of the two new-found dwarf groups thus is 9,000,000,000,000,000 (quadrillion) miles in diameter.

The new galaxies, tiny islands in the vast universe of galaxies, were discovered by the National Geographic Society-Palomar Observatory sky survey. They are in the so-called "local" group of galaxies of which the Milky Way with its billions of suns is one. They lift to 16 the number of groups now known to be in this galaxy-of-galaxies.

The new star families showed up on sky survey plates made in April by the 48-inch Schmidt camera at the Palomar Observatory in California.

They will be studied further by Palomar's 200-inch telescope, capable of probing 1,000,000,000 light years into space, and by the 100-inch telescope at Mt. Wilson.

Radical Douk Leaders Handed Jail Sentence

NELSON, B.C., June 23.—(BUP)—A radical Doukhobor leader who claims he "talked with God" was sentenced to prison and another who denied being a member of the Sons of Freedom arson-nudist sect, was found guilty in assize court at Nelson, B.C., yesterday.

A two-year penitentiary term was meted out to Michael "The Archangel" Veregin, 57-year-old leader of a wife-swapping colony of radicals on Vancouver Island, following his conviction Tuesday on a charge of conspiracy to encourage adultry.

His secretary, Joe Podovinikoff, was also given a two year term today for the same offence.

John Lebedoff, leader of 5,000 radical Sons of Freedom in British Columbia's Kootenays, was found guilty later of "conspiring to cause disaffection among the Doukhobors," around Nelson.

A 12-man assize court jury deliberated only 20 minutes. In returning a guilty verdict against Lebedoff during which the court heard a welter of conflicting statements.

Lebedoff was remanded for sentence by Mr. Justice Coady who also imposed the prison term on Veregin.

Under severe cross examination today by Crown Prosecutor Angelo Brance, Lebedoff said "I am definitely not a Son of Freedom."

"How is it then, that you hold a fairly high position among your people?" Brance asked.

"No high position because no Son of Freedom could be on top," he replied.

"But I thought you said you weren't a Son of Freedom?" Brance insisted.

Lebedoff did not reply.

RECOVERED PRISONER WILL KEEP FREEDOM

HULL, Eng., June 23.—(Reuters)—The man who gained his eight hours after being released from prison because he would "never see again" will keep his freedom.

No official demand for 39-year-old Herbert Howlett's return to prison is expected to follow his remarkable experience. It was stated authoritatively yesterday.

The home office, which ordered his release from Parkhurst prison, Isle of Wight, are standing by their original decision, it is understood.

Howlett, told by doctors and specialists that he would never see again, found his vision clear the day after he had been escorted to his home here by a prison orderly after serving about half of a five-year prison sentence.

Picks Harvard

MEMPHIS, Tenn.— (UP) — Harvard should be flattered to enroll John R. Rodman. The 17-year-old graduate of Central High School was offered scholarships from six colleges, with a total value of $23,000. He chose a $4,500 grant for Harvard because he wants to study law.

Rhine Line Is Revealed

FRANKFURT, Germany, June 23. —(AP)—French occupation authorities officially disclosed last night that defense fortifications, presumably against Russian attack, are being built in Western Europe.

The French made the official disclosure in connection with reports of defence preparations along the Rhine River, near the famed Lorelei Rock.

"The measures of a military character, which are being carried out below the Lorelei, are in no way isolated," the announcement said. "They are not exclusively French but resulted from inter-Allied initiative.

"They are preventative measures resulting from inter-Allied agreement, and can be also noticed at most important traffic points, not only in the German federal area, but also in France and in other Western European countries.

U.S. Probes Newsprint

WASHINGTON, June 23.—(UP) —House monopoly investigators set out today to trace the giant Canadian newsprint industry's U.S. financial connections.

Donald C. Cook, a member of the securities and exchange commission, will report to a house judiciary subcommittee (at 10 a.m. EDT) the details of the industry's known finances and its rate of expansion in recent years.

Cook's report is part of a series on various industries requested by the committee as part of its intensive study to see whether newsprint prices are under control of a few leading firms.

A 12-year-old confidential document given the committee yesterday by David D. Erroll, former export manager of a Finnish paper company, claimed the newsprint association of Canada had such a system which kept not only prices but also sales and production under controls.

Erroll, now a resident of New York, said the document was a report by Erik Alqvist, manager of the Scandanavian newsprint combine, on talks with the Canadians in 1938. Erroll said Alqvist is now in Egypt.

Masons Lodge Meets At Bawlf

BAWLF, June 23.—Melrose Lodge A.F. and A.M. held their annual social gathering in the Bawlf Hall last evening at which 140 attended.

Educational films were shown, followed by musical program and dancing.

F. McCrea, worthy master, was chairman; committee in charge of arrangements was N. J. Thompson, R. Anderson, L. Olson and H. Shannon.

Funeral Service For Killam Woman

KILLAM, June 23.—Funeral service for Mrs. Pon Moon Get, who died in Edmonton hospital, was held in Fee's Hall, Killam, June 5, with Rev. G. Brooks officiating.

Mrs. Moon was born in Weston Salem, North Carolina, in 1891 and came to the Forestburg district with her parents as a child.

In 1919 she was married and lived in Killam until her death.

Surviving besides her husband is a son Charles, Killam, and a daughter, Mary, Vancouver.

Violent Crime By-Product Of Malady

LONDON, June 23 — (Reuters) —Many divorces and crimes of violence may be due to the mental effects of sleeping sickness, a leading British psychiatrist suggested today.

Dr. Geoffrey Tooth, who spent two years in the African Gold Coast investigating the disease, advised doctors to look first for mental symptoms of the disease.

In many cases, Tooth's report to the Colonial Office suggested, first evidence of sleeping sickness is a change in mental pattern. There may be depression, weeping, talkativeness, mischeviousness, impulsive acts of aggression or gross lunacy.

COMPARISON MADE

In nine months' work devoted to the subject—part of a wider investigation of mental illness in the Gold Coast—Tooth examined 232 patients and made a check for comparison with 59 patients suffering from another disease.

More than 85 per cent of the patients Tooth examined showed mental abnormalities. Bad temper, dullness and forgetfulness were the most common symptoms.

Test Blasts Cold Cure

HALIFAX, N.S., June 23—(BUP)—Dr. D. C. Bews of Montreal said yesterday a two-months test among a group of workers showed that antihistaminic compounds have no measurable effect on colds.

He said both sugar and antihistaminic pills were used in the tests on 900 persons.

This is what the survey showed:

1. Forty-six per cent of those taking the antihistamines reported their colds improved; so did 45 per cent of those taking sugar pills.

2. Forty-six per cent of both groups said the pills made them drowsy.

3. Ten per cent of the antihistamine group said they got upset stomachs, but so did 19 per cent of the others.

4. Eight per cent of the antihistamine users reported headaches along with 22 per cent in the sugar group.

Both groups reported their colds lasted about the same length of time.

Rev. Sawchuk Gets High Post Second Time

SASKATOON, June 23 — (CP) — The Very Rev. S. W. Sawchuk of Winnipeg yesterday was re-elected administrator-president of the Consistory of the Ukrainian Greek Orthodox Church of Canada. The church bylaws were changed, increasing the Consistory members from seven to 15.

Others named to the Consistory were: Clergy—The Revs. E. Hrisina, Dauphin, Man. (assistant administrator); P. Stefiuk, Telatol, Man.; W. Sluzar, Montreal; P. Sametz, Hamilton, Ont.; J. Boychuk, Glendon, Alta.; M. Fyk, Radway, Alta.; and laymen—Professor S. Kondra, Winnipeg; Dr. J. Verchomin, Edmonton; J. W. Stechishin, Saskatoon; John Syrnik, Winnipeg; and Andrew Oryschak, Toronto.

Homicide Conviction

THOUNE, Switzerland, June 23—(Reuters)—A father and mother, both "faith healers," have been found guilty of homicide through negligence because they attempted to save their two-year-old son, who died of meningitis, by prayer alone.

Eden's Successor Role Confirmed By Churchill

LONDON, June 23—(CP)—Winston Churchill has confirmed what most people thought—that Anythony Eden is the Conservative party's No. 2 man.

In a speech to Conservative women at Albert Hall, Churchill defined his relations with Eden in these words:

"If we have any differences, we thresh them out. I should not take any important step in public life nor do I, without consulting this most able and distinguished man, who will carry on the torch of Progressive Conservatism when other and older hands have let it fall."

Churchill is 75.

For some reason—he is not as spectacular as some of his colleagues—Eden is one of the handful of politicians whose names are known around the world. People instinctively trust him. He comes from the upper classes, but of the type defined by one biographer as that which has made Britain the country of political change and political stability.

GOOD, BUT . . .

In debates he has seemed an earnest, witty and penetrating speaker, a little aloof from the straight party-line contests between Socialists and Conservatives.

For all his popularity, there has been a tendency at times to doubt his abilities, to suggest that he is a good man but not quite a potential prime minister.

In the last few months, however, his prestige has gradually risen. Many among the correspondents in the parliamentary press gallery consider that a Conservative party headed by Eden might do better at the polls than one headed by the commanding, but more controversial, Churchill.

Tourist Road Gravel Work

Tourist route highway in southern Alberta between Willow Creek and Wildhorse on the Elkwater-Wildhorse road will be gravelled shortly.

Hon. D. B. MacMillan, Alberta public works minister, said today gravelling of the 36-mile distance will be completed by the Nick Zellars construction firm of Medicine Hat. Cost of the job will be $25,737.

Gravel contract for 13 miles of road between Cardston and Carway, was awarded to N. Gallelli and sons of Calgary for a tendered price of $9,583. Four other bids were received.

Newcastle Man Pleads Guilty

DRUMHELLER, June 23—(CP)—Abraham Lincoln Yost, Newcastle, arrested Wednesday morning after an attempt had been made to break into the Bank of Commerce at Delia, pleaded guilty to the attempted break-in and also eight other crimes in the Drumheller area.

He was remanded until June 28 for sentence.

Blast Kills Two

NATCHEZ, Miss., June 23—(AP)—An accumulation of gas exploded in the basement of a downtown restaurant Wednesday night, killing two persons and injuring six others.

EYES FILLED with tears, Julea Buray sees father after 22 years separation. City contractor Louis Buray left native Czeckoslovakia when daughter was babe in arms. Yesterday she arrived by air with five-year-old son Lacy. Father of boy is divorced Russian officer.

REVERSAL IS UPHELD

VANCOUVER, June 23—(CP) — An automobile is a public place within meaning of the British Columbia Liquor Act, B.C. court of appeal decided yesterday.

The court allowed the appeal of the attorney-general from a judgment of Mr. Justice H. S. Wood, who had set aside the conviction of Ford McLeod of Ladysmith, B.C., fined $50 for drinking beer in a parked car outside a dance hall.

Proud 'Parents' Get Little Ones After Trouble

SAVANNAH, Ga., June 23—(AP)—Two pigmy date palms, one of which nearly died of lonliness two years ago when its mate was stolen, today are the "parents" of three date pods.

J. A. Cesaaroni, owner of the trees, said that in 1948 the female palm was stolen and the male began to wilt. An odd thing about this type of tree, he explained, is that the male and female trees must be close together to survive. At this time of year, with the aid of the winds, they exchange pollen.

Cesaroni finally recovered the stolen tree, but for a while it appeared neither would survive the ordeal.

Slowly they returned to good health. And now the happy trees have borne their first fruit in 17 years.

Ukrainian Church OK's Resignation

SASKATOON, June 23—(CP)—The Very Rev. Mstyslaw Skrypnyk, Archbishop of the Ukrainian Greek Orthodox Church diocese of Winnipeg and all Canada, has resigned as ruling bishop.

The resignation was accepted by the council of the church which concluded a five-day meeting yesterday. The consistory was empowered to name his successor.

Iraq's Wealthy Jews Arrive Broke In Israel

TEL AVIV, Israel, June 23—(AP)—Some of the wealthiest Jews in the world, straight out of the legendary site of the Garden of Eden, are flocking into Israel, Practically "dead broke."

Jews from Iraq are arriving in Israel at the rate of 8,000 to 10,000 monthly. A total of 120,000 may come within the next 16 or 18 months. They are forced to leave behind homes and business holdings valued at hundreds of millions of dollars.

These people from the Biblical cradle of the human race arrive in Israel with about 60 pounds of personal baggage and the equivalent of about $15.

These Jews are abandoning outright or selling for virtually nothing properties built up in one of the oldest (2,500 years) and richest communities in the world. Immigration agencies have estimated the value of properties in Iraq of 30,000 Jewish families alone at 16,000,000 dinars. A dinar is worth $3.10.

There are 100 families with fortunes of 150,000 dinars each; 50 families are registered with properties worth 300,000 dinars each. Much of their wealth is in banks, schools, synagogues and business properties.

NOT MUCH TIME

Leaving this wealth behind doesn't seem to disturb the incoming Iraqi immigrant. He beams happily upon reaching Lodda airport. Some kiss the soil of Israel. Others kneel in prayer on the airfield.

"All seem anxious to get here in a hurry, for the Iraqi government has set a time limit on the regulation for those who want to come to Israel.

It is an unusual operation, for Israel still is technically at war with Iraq.

The Iraqis require planes loaded with Jews to clear for Nicosia, Cyprus. Then the aircraft have to turn around and fly over to Israel. It is an expensive operation, for by going first to Cyprus the planes fly a 400-mile detour.

The flow of the Iraqi Jews increases still further the tremendous job of the Israeli government in finding places for immigrants to live and provide them with jobs.

PISTOL PACKER

Miss Moon Handles Truck Drivers Roughly

ATLANTA, June 23 — (UP) — Miss Viola Moon, a 47-year-old Sunday school secretary, knows how to handle "wise-guy" truck drivers — with a pistol.

She got "fed up," Miss Moon told police, with the way heavy trucks were running over the sidewalk in front of her home while backing into a nearby warehouse.

Every time I said something to the drivers, they got smart with me," she declared.

When she tried to bawl out one of the drivers, Miss Moon continued, he just replied: "Come over here and hug my neck."

"So," she explained, "I just decided to calm them down a bit."

Truck driver Howard D. McKinney said he was anything but calm after he met Miss Moon Tuesday while trying to back into the warehouse.

"The first thing I knew I heard a pistol shot. Then I looked around and saw this lady with a pistol in her hand.

"I got out of there," he said.

Miss Moon was arrested, charged with discharging firearms and pointing a pistol at another.

That 'Push Button' Kitchen Is Here

Switchboard Stove Cooks Breakfast Before You Rise

By Laura Etz
Exclusive to the Bulletin

CHICAGO, June 23—(UP)—Housewives can stop dreaming about a "push-button kitchen," home appliance manufacturers said today.

They have one now.

To prove it, the manufacturers pointed to exhibits at the 26th International Summer Home Furnishings Market.

You can have a refrigerator that keeps foods moist because the humidity is constant. It doesn't need defrosting because the wall are kept at an even temperature so no frost collects. You can store the family's food for months in the freezing compartment.

It even has a magnetic door that opens with a foot pedal.

The top of the stove looks like a switchboard, with six buttons for each surface cooking unit. Push a button and you get the exact heat you want, automatically. Push another button to turn it off.

An electric timer can be set to go on and off at any time, and it has a power outlet so you can attach other gadgets like a toaster or egg cooker.

SET NIGHT BEFORE

Set the alarm clock-timer for 30 minutes before you get up in the morning, attach the toaster, coffeemaker and egg cooker — which cooks eggs automatically to your exact specifications — and breakfast will be ready when the alarm clock wakes you up.

It makes the process of getting a meal together "as nearly push-button as anyone can visualize right now," one manufacturer said.

After the meal, waste food can be eliminated in a matter of seconds in the garbage disposal unit under the sink. The dishes, glasses and cooking utensils can be put in the automatic dishwasher and left to wash, rinse and dry themselves ready to use again in 29 minutes.

But, the manufacturers said, no one will ever invent a machine that can stir up a cake and put it in the oven, or drop the eggs in a frying pan, or look pretty in an apron.

Non-Kosher Meat Issue In Israeli

TEL AVIV, Israel, June 23—(AP)—Rabbi Yehuda Lieb Maimon walked out of an Israeli cabinet meeting yesterday and said he will resign as minister of religion if the government fails to cancel purchase of non-kosher war surplus canned meat from the United States.

Edmonton Firm Bid Accepted

New provincial building at Drumheller will be built by the R. V. Coambs construction firm of Edmonton.

Hon. D. B. MacMillan, minister of public works, said today the company's bid of $143,000 for the job was accepted by the government. Two other bids were received.

The provincial building will house provincial government mines, forestry and agriculture department offices, a provincial treasury branch and liquor store.

Son Born

HOLLYWOOD, June 23—(AP)—Film actress Frances Rafferty, 27, gave birth yesterday to her first child, a 7½-pound son.

Bellis Students' Work Displayed

BELLIS, June 23—A Style Show was given Thursday afternoon in the Bellis Educational Hall.

Girls who modelled were domestic art students, taught by Miss Nellie Romanchuk of Spedden.

The boys of the manual training classes had a display of shop work. The class had made a ping-pong table, ready for next winter games, and they have started a model house. Each boy displayed his own workmanship. Their teacher is George Kokotailo.

Ontario Adopts Mail Lessons

Lessons from the Alberta Correspondence branch "school" are soon to be used by the Ontario department of education.

Dr. W. H. Swift, deputy minister of education said yesterday the courses will be used for grades one, two and three. In some respects the lessons will be modified and they will be essentially the same as those prepared in Alberta.

Junior Red Cross Displays Work

BAWLF, June 23—Two Junior Red Cross groups, under direction of Mrs. A. Peacock and Miss H. Berg, culminated their year's work in a tea and sale in the school Saturday.

Display of ornaments, woodwork and fancy work was offered. Proceeds accredited $50. These groups have aided Greek relief and raised money for the Crippled Children's Hospital, Calgary, by making and selling popcorn Saturday evenings.

Time Out

MOSTLY ABOUT PEOPLE

Ou. this last Friday in the week we are in receipt of a letter from an old-time soccer fan who prefers to be known as 'Galashiels' in the public prints. He forwards some corrections to a soccer yarn which was related in this space two days ago, and which had to do with how the Catholics cheered for Celtic and the Protestants supported the Rangers, in Scottish football circles.

'Galashiels' points out that Hampden Park is the home of the amateur Queen's Park Club and that it is doubtful if a Celtic-Ranger match was ever played there, as suggested by this correspondent. And he suggests, too, that police have likely never interrupted a Celtic-Ranger footfest 20-30 times, as was mentioned.

All of which impulses Blowhard Beddoes to pass along a bit of hald-erdash to the observant 'Galashiels.'

'At Home' With Some of Edmonton's Football Imports

STOWING AWAY 'vittles" at Phi Kap fraternity house is favorite pastime for four of Edmonton's football imports. Packing away the eats are, from left, Bill Briggs (Toronto Argonauts), Paul Alford (Hamilton Wildcats), Doug Brightwell (Regina Roughriders and Texas Christian University) and Lindy Berry (Texas Christian).

"WHO ME?" says Guard Alford when housekeeper Mrs. Lang corners him with the idea of getting some assistance with the dinner dishes. Phi Kap house will be home for most single out-of-town players during the summer.

AFTER DINNER relation finds, from left, Brightwell, Alford and Berry in three-handed rummy game while Briggs writes to his wife and three children in Toronto. Fall training for Eskimos opens at Clarke Stadium July 15 and one month after that the Edmontons will get their first test under fire—an exhibition tussle with the dominion-champion Montreal Alouettes.

Housing Problem Faces Eskimos

Nobody is scanning the want ads more avidly these days than officials of the Eskimo football club.

For the gridiron bosses are in acute need of housing accomodation for some of their imports. The situation is such that they are interested in securing five suites or houses by July 1, and renting such facilities for a five-month period.

So, the Eskimos will listen to any and all propositions concerning housing, with Roy Haliburton (phone 24235) being the man to contact.

Don Narell and Morris Bailey will arrive in the city early next week. They are two of four former Texas Christian University standouts who have signed with the Eskimos, the other pair being Lindy Berry and Doug Brightwell.

Berry and Brightwell, quarterback and centre respectively, have been here a week. Berry has since secured employment in the business administration line while Brightwell is on the prowl for something with a physical education slant attached to it.

Eastern Canadians Paul Alford and Briggs didn't take long to get located in jobs. Alford, a starting guard with Hamilton Wildcats of the Big Four last year, is with Northwestern Utilities. Briggs, Toronto Argonaut tackle for the past few seasons had little trouble getting situated in the electrician business.

LaLonde's Grand-Slam Homer Wins For Oilers

A grand-slam home run by Ray 'Frenchy' LaLonde and brilliant relief pitching by Kea Bailey sparked Texaco Oilers to a 13-7 Senior 'B' Baseball league triumph over South Side at Diamond park last night.

LaLonde's four-ply swat with the bases loaded highlighted an eight run uprising by Oilers in the third frame.

ExCanadian junior Bailey came in the first inning to relieve starting pitcher Ken LeBranche. South Siders struck for seven runs on four hits and four errors to account for all their runs in the first stanza.

Bailey was touched for only one hit in pitching shutout ball the remaining six chuckers.

Jim Kinaman was top hitter for the night with his four-for-five batting aiding the winners' cause.

'NEW' CALGARY BUFFS PLAY ESKS TONIGHT

It will be the league-leading Eskimos against the much-improved Calgary Buffaloes as Big Four Baseball league action resumes at Renfrew Park tonight, weather permitting.

In the meantime manager Jim Ryan's Dodgers will be in Calgary for a week-end series against Purity.

Buffs will present an almost entirely new line-up against Eskimos, since last appearing here. Manager Vince Pesky recently took on a bevy of college players from Arizona. Only outfielders Bill Gadsby and Bill Clovinski are likely to be 'old faces' in tonight's starting Buff line-up.

Esks will start righthander Bob Peterson against the Calgarians.

Singers Assume Lead, Nipping Pontiacs 4-3

Singers took undisputed possession of first place in the Senior Men's Fastball league standings last night by edging Pontiacs 4-3 at Kingsway.

Previous to last night, both squads had been tied for leadership.

The first half of a Kingsway double-header saw RCAF whip Navy 12-2 in a Senior Men's "B" league clash.

It was a costly error by Pontiac third baseman Stu McCaskill in the seventh inning that paved the way for Singers' win.

The Singer battery of catcher Fred Morie and pitcher Jim Milne started the ball rolling in the seventh by singling in succession. Doug Anderson then bunted down the third base line.

McCaskill threw wild in an attempt to nab Morie at third. As a result, both Morie and Milne scored and Anderson moved to third. Anderson then was squeezed home by Dave "Teach" Ellis.

Pontiacs rallied in the eighth after two were out to count a trio of markers but were unable to tally the tying run.

Ed Young pitched five-hit ball to spark Airmen to their win. His mates, with Doug McLeod's three hits pacing them, climbed on the offering of lefty Reg Hore for a total of 14 hits.

PIRIE PITCHES SHOT CLOSE TO HOLE-IN-ONE

Ken Pirie pitched a shot to within 20 inches of the cup last night in the Kiwanis Hole-In-One competition at South Side Athletic grounds to win the nightly first prize of a radio.

Since the contest started on Monday night, no one has yet been able to pocket the $100 prize money for bagging a hole in one.

Second prize of 12 golf balls went to Mr. Wright whose shot stopped 22 inches from the cup and in third place was Mr. Baxter with a 25 inch gap between his ball and the cup.

Mount Carmel Tops Grandin

Mount Carmel downed Grandin 10-8 recently in an intermediate high school fastball game at South Side Athletic grounds.

Alaska Massacred By Mohawk 'Tribe'

By Stan Moher
Sports Editor

First fans "I hear the Blue Sox have released second-baseman Johnny Onehop, and him a .300 ball-player, too."

Second fan: "How come?"

First fan: "That's what he was fielding, not hitting."

California Mohawks massacred Alaska Command 15-2 in an exhibition baseball tilt at Renfrew Park last night. When the California Kids weren't socking the ball for extra bases they were booting it around.

Result: 18 base-hits, including three home runs, a triple and four doubles. Also eight errors.

Bearing the brunt of the Mohawk bludgeoning were Alaska Command's starting hurler, lanky Paul Nichols, and Ted Dverney, who took over on the chopping block after four innings.

Both were stung for eight hits and between them yielded 12 of the 15 Mohawk runs. Then with two away in the seventh inning, Wally Hutchinson relieved Dverney. He was going along in great style until Hawks' second-baseman Roy Taylor 'killed' him with a three run homer in the last frame.

In addition to Taylor, one of the older members of a generally 'teen-aged California squad, right-fielder Larry Bolger and catcher Don Bricker unloaded hefty homers.

All three of the four-masters were hit 'miles' over the centre field barrier.

By way of variety Lew Moore, of the opposition, sliced one over the right field wall in the opening inning.

Mohawks, who edged Alaska Command 6-4 in the second round of the recent Lacombe tournament (home runs turned the trick here, too), weren't long taking a pass at Nichols.

In the first inning clean-up hitter Larry Bolger, teed off on the second pitch to drive one well over the centre barrier for three runs. Barnett and Bilano scored ahead of him.

It never was a contest after that.

PACED THE HITTERS

Milano, with four hits in six tries, including a pair of two-baggers turned up as the leading hitter of the night. Barnett, who also walked twice, and Taylor collected three hits apiece.

Only Chris Makras, of all the Mohawks, failed to crack the hit column.

In the meantime 19-year-old southpaw Jake Abbott, on the mound for the Collegians, was rationing Alaska Command to four hits. Abbott, whose fast ball was of the crackling variety, carried on like one of the best lefthanders to come to Renfrew in a long time.

The Mohawks will return July 12 for an exhibition game against Ed Morris' Esks of the Big Four league. Between now and then they'll "play" the north country, starring with Dowson Creek today.

Portrait of a Man Talking to Himself . . .

So . . . Vegas Terry pays off at $120.35 for a deuce at Winnipeg yesterday. Here was the alltime overlay of prairie racing history. Even had Walter Sprague's horse been running in the handicap, much less a claiming race, you wouldn't expect it to go off at 59-1. Why, Vegas Terry has won upwards of a dozen races in the past three years alone. One hundred and twenty dollars and some change. What a spot to have a fin or a ten-spot riding.

★ ★ ★ ★

Note where Calgary Buffs tackle Eskimos at Renfrew Park tonight. Might as well hang a University of Arizona tag on those Buffs and let it go at that. Every guy in the infield is from Arizona U. Vince Pesky has one or two others from down that way, too.

★ ★ ★ ★

Guess Buffs are one big happy family, the way they're going now. But Lloyd Bradley, who pitched three or four seasons for them, then balked at being traded to Puritys, isn't very happy about the deal. Heard him say Sam Timmins was cheap.

To think that the boys from Arizona would insist on playing on the same team. That doesn't add up, not with fellows that age. Wonder why Sam Timmins and Harold Cundal got pushed around on this one? After all who's paying the salaries?

Looks like Joe McCarthy has had it in Boston. It's hard to believe that a gang as strong as the Red Sox could lose 11 of their last 13 games. For sure there's something wrong.

Imagine a team that swings into action some days with all except the pitcher hitting over .300 having a hard time staying in the first division? There's a good chance Steve O'Neill will succeed McCarthy. You just about need an Irish manager in Boston.

Wonder if Sceptre and California Mohawks will get around to playing the final game of the Lacombe baseball tournament? Chances are they won't. After all those Mohawks, whatever about Sceptre, have a pretty full schedule of games.

★ ★ ★ ★

Can't see why the Mohawks play some of the whistle stops they do. The diamonds must be pretty horrible, for one thing. And there's always the chance of serious leg injury.

★ ★ ★ ★

There you go again, Moher, butting in. It's not your life, is it? See where Sam Snead tied a course record at Columbus yesterday. Slammin' Sam belts 'em a mile, especially when Ben Hogan isn't around.

★ ★ ★ ★

So Detwiler is still in there pitching? Sport is so much simpler. Either a man is a .300 hitter, or he isn't. Anyway what Detwiler got to do with you? Better let Etter and Harold Weir and the publisher worry about the Miracle Mile. Sportswriters don't know about things like that.

Pipe the ad John Ducey ran, calling Esks' shortstop Bob Lillis the greatest player ever to show in Renfrew Park.

There's just no sense putting a kid under all that pressure. Hope he's as level-headed as he's appeared so far. Such extravagant publicity would go to the head of most 20-year-olds. . . . Besides what about the major leaguers that have played at Renfrew Park? And how can you forget poor Pete McCready, when he was going his best lick?

★ ★ ★ ★

Can't get over Vegas Terry paying that kind of lettuce. Let's see, $10 to win would have returned better than $600. How ridiculous can people get

New Haven Remains In AHL

NEW YORK, June 23—(CP)—The New Haven team in the American Hockey league will operate next season as an independent organization, it was decided yesterday by the league's board of governors.

New York Rangers of the National Hockey league recently announced they had severed connections with the New Haven club, reported to have lost $67,000 last year for the Rangers. New Haven finished fourth in the eastern division of the two-division, 10-team circuit.

An AHL spokesman said that New Haven would operate next season "completely independent" of any NHL team, its manager and players will be chosen later, he said.

Maurice Podoloff, who presided over the annual business meeting yesterday, said the circuit would function again with 10 clubs—five in each division.

Easy For English

MONTREAL, June 23—(CP)—With Nat Lofthouse scoring four goals, the touring English all-stars defeated Sweden's Jonkoping 7-1 here last night before about 12,000 soccer fans.

ROY BENTLEY MAY HEAD MOOSE JAW

MOOSE JAW, Sask., June 23—(CP)—Roy Bentley, who guided the club to the Memorial cup final in the spring of 1945, may return to Moose Jaw as coach of the Canucks of the Western Canada Junior Hockey league, it was learned yesterday.

Following an executive meeting Wednesday night, club president George Vogan disclosed that Bentley had been selected from a long list of applicants for the vacancy created by the recent resignation of Ken Doraty.

Bentley, an older brother of Max and Doug of National Hockey league fame, and father of Bev Bentley, star senior goal-tender, has been at the helm of Wetaskiwin Canadians of the Edmonton and District Junior league for two seasons.

Slugging Bee

North Side Legion outslugged Norwood Foundry to cop a 16-12 midget fastball league decision at Clarke Stadium last night.

SPREAD-EAGLED in mid-air is New York Yankee second baseman Jerry Coleman as he throws ball to first base to complete a double play, Chicago White Sox Gerry Scala was forced on play after Gus Zernial hit to New York third sacker Bill Johnson.

Senators Sweep Series With Sagging Detroiters

NEW YORK, June 23—(CP)—Come all you ball fans if you want to hear the sad story of Detroit Tigers. The truth is they're a bit off beat at the moment, even if they are top dogs of the American baseball league.

Washington Senators would seem to have had the Tigers' number when yesterday they backed Bob Kuzava's five-hit pitching with a 12-hit attack and won 5-2 to sweep a three-game series.

Tigers, however, still clung to a one-game lead over second place New York Yankees who lost to Cleveland 6-2, while Chicago White Sox knocked back Boston Red Sox 4-2.

In the National league Philadelphia defeated Pittsburgh 7-4; Cincinnati dropped Brooklyn 9-5 and the Giants took both ends of a double header from St. Louis 3-0 and 3-0.

THREE-RUN OUTBURST

Washington, which grabbed a three-run lead in the first inning Wednesday while besting the Tigers 12-4 repeated the three-run outburst yesterday. Four hits off Detroit starter Paul Trout, who took the loss, figured in that scoring.

Washington added a run in the second inning to drive Trout to the showers and got another in the ninth off Paul Calvert, second of three pitcher relief pitchers.

Indians crashed five home runs off Lefty Joe Ostrowski to defeat the Yanks 6-2 in the rubber game of their three-game series.

All but one of the runs made by both teams were driven in by home runs. None of the seven homers came with a man on. Jim Hegan and Luke Easter each socked two for the winners. Ray Boone got the other. Joe DiMaggio and Johnny Mize belted the round-trippers for the two New York runs off Bob Feller.

Feller struck out six and held the Yanks to seven blows as he gained his seventh victory.

Pitcher Ray Scarborough and first-baseman Eddie Robinson, two former Washington Senators, were the entire show as the White Sox kayoed Boston.

Scarborough gained his seventh victory of the season, fourth for Chicago, via a four-hitter as Robinson drove in all four of the White Sox runs.

McCARTHY IS SICK

It was Boston's 11th loss in the last 13 games as coach Steve O'Neill made his debut as the team's acting manager. The former Cleveland and Detroit skipper was promoted to full command when manager Joe McCarthy was ordered to return to his home in Buffalo, N.Y., for a complete physical check-up and rest.

Over in the National league, right-hander Larry Jansen and southpaw Dave Koslo each hurled shutouts as New York Giants swept a doubleheader from the Cards.

Jansen extended his consecutive scoreless skein to 29 innings with a six-hitter in the opener. Koslo limited the Redbirds to only two hits in the nightcap.

The double defeat dropped the Cards into third place, half a game behind the leading Brooklyn Dodgers and four percentage points behind the second-place Philadelphia Phillies.

Four home runs and a triple play carried rookie Bob Miller to his sixth pitching victory without a defeat for the Phillies. Circuit clouters were Willie Jones with his 12th homer of the season, Del Ennis with his 14th, Andy Seminick and Bill Nicholson.

Ralph Kiner also hit a homer, his 15th for the Pirates, to retain the league lead.

The cellar-dwelling Cincinnati Reds made it six out of nine over more than any other golfer.

ALEX SHIBICKY VISITING HERE

Alex Shibicky, once a member of New York Rangers' famed Shibicky-Neil Colville-Mac Colville line, is a visitor here.

Last season he coached Flin Flon Junior Bombers.

While in the city he is renewing acquaintances and very likely talking farming operations with partner Neil Colville. They own an 1,100-acre farm near Winnipeg.

Shibicky, who bossed New Westminster Royals in the 1948-49 season, plans to go on to the west coast from here.

The top-ranking Dodgers by trouncing them in the odd game of their current three-game set, the first series lost at home by the Brooks this year.

Philadelphia hammered four Brownie pitchers for 15 hits to gain an 8-4 victory.

LOS ANGELES—Gene Sarazen has played in 26 PGA tourneys. Rests made it six out of nine over more than any other golfer.

Woodenface Out In Three Pitches

Sixteen-year-old Bob Ferrier hurled three straight strikes past Woodenface at Central playground yesterday afternoon to be the first contestant to pitch a perfect strike-out in The Bulletin's Woodenface competition.

Ferrier, a right-hander, who plays shortstop for Arnots in the City Juvenile Fastball league, topped 22 other entrants. Included among these was last year's Central winner, Don Morrison.

Morrison threw six pitches before he retired Woodenface.

Others registering strikeouts, but with more than three pitches, were Rickey Jomha and Steve Zdrill.

Ferrier now moves into the sectional finals against winners from other districts. Finals of the competition will be played at Renfrew Park about the middle of next month.

Idea of the competition is to toss three balls through the square hole in Woodenface in as few pitches as possible, thus striking out the Bulletin's batter.

Competition moves to Westmount playground this afternoon at 4 o'clock with all boys sixteen and under eligible to enter.

Barrhead Sports Slated July 1

BARRHEAD, June 23—Barrhead's annual July 1 sports day is shaping up to be a bigger event than last season.

It was previously planned to have six senior clubs and 12 intermediate squads participate in the baseball tournament, but already eight senior and 16 intermediate teams signified they would like to compete.

With space for a third diamond on the sports field, it is quite likely that the committee will accept all applications.

Following are the officials of the Barrhead Sports Association: President, Tommy Roberts; 1st vice-president, Charles Stroude; 2nd vice-president, Tommy Weeks; ed C. D. Orr; baseball, Roy Harris; school, Jim Soneff; hockey, Earl Holmberg; town, Dr. Hooker; Kinsmen, Ed. Sinclair; Elks, Hons. Wells.

Wainwright Plans July 1 Show

WAINWRIGHT, June 23—This eastern Alberta town will be scene of a mammoth sports day on July 1. Included on the program of athletic events will be baseball and softball tournaments, children's races and a horseshoe competition.

First prize money in the baseball jamboree will be $155 and top money in the men's softball has been set at 60 bucks. Winners of the ladies' softball show will receive $40.

Closing dates for entries in the baseball tournament has been set at June 29.

NEW YORK—Yankee players have hit 45 or more homers a season 14 times.

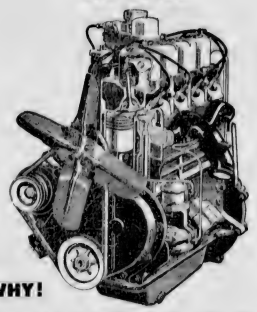
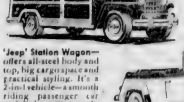
YOU GET MORE POWER YET USE LESS FUEL WITH WILLYS' SENSATIONAL NEW HIGH COMPRESSION HURRICANE ENGINE



HERE'S WHY!

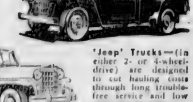
The new 'Hurricane' is a 4-cylinder F-head engine, with valve-in-head intake and valve-in-block exhaust. It has greatly increased compression, but does not require premium fuel. A short, evenly-heated intake manifold and giant-size intake valve deliver a full charge of fuel mixture to each cylinder at any speed. It literally squeezes more energy from every drop of gas, giving lower fuel consumption and higher horsepower.

THESE NEW WILLYS' MODELS NOW HURRICANE POWERED!



'Jeep' Station Wagon—offers all-steel body and top, big cargo space and practical styling. It's a 2-in-1 vehicle—a smooth riding passenger car and light utility truck.

Jeepster—a sensational sports phaeton styled for modern motorists. It rolls up record-breaking gas mileage—rides with road-hugging smoothness—turns on a dime.



'Jeep' Trucks—(in either 2- or 4-wheel-drive) are designed to cut hauling costs through long trouble-free service and low operating expense.

Navy Boss Dislikes Umps

Petty Officer John Oster doesn't like the umpires at Kingsway ball park. This was revealed last night after Navy's 12-2 defeat at the hands of RCAF.

Oster, manager of the Navy entry, threatened to withdraw his team from the Senior Men's 'B' Fastball league "unless the umpiring improves in Edmonton."

Navy is presently in the throes of an eight game losing streak. They won the first three and have been unable to grab another decision.

Oster said, "If the Edmonton and District Fastball Association can't get good umpires — they should pay a little more and get some umpires. It will be better for fastball here."

Stott Pressed To Beat Kinloch

By Bart Gibb

Harry Kinloch, seven times Edmonton city titlist, last night gave provincial champion Johnny Stott a good run for the money in the men's singles event of the city tennis tournament, currently being played at Glenora, Garneau and Civil Service clubs.

Stott, defending champ, moved into the final with a straight set of 6-1, 8-6, and 7-5.

But it wasn't as easy as it sounds.

Although Stott literally walked away with the first set, he had to play some of his best tennis to cop the next two.

REMEMBER 'FLAXAN FLASH'

Had he been up against the Kinloch of the mid-thirties, the outcome of the match might have been a horse of a different color. For in those days the one-time "Flaxan Flash" was perennial-city titlist.

Kinloch's week point was his inability to return Stott's drop shots which were consistently edging their way over the net.

Both men were firing some spectacular shots and their long rallies brought a good hand from the spectators. It was without a doubt one of the finest matches staged locally this season.

In the Bulletin competition, Lois Tweed moved into the final with a close 11-9, 2-6, 6-2 win over Cal Holmgren. Miss Tweed meets Evelyn Linke in the final of this event.

TWO HOUR STRUGGLE

A gruelling two-hour match in the men's singles last Sunday wasn't enough for Jack Thorburn and Ken Grierson. Last night pitted against each other in the Mitchell event, Grierson and Thorburn fought their way through 29 games before decidingg a winner.

Grierson was the victor last Sunday, but Thorburn turned the tables last night with a 6-3, 16-14 victory.

Highlighting today's draw will be a hot match between Alf Ingall and Dr. Hal Richard in the semi-finals of the men's open singles. They are slated to take to the courts at Glenora at 5 p.m.

Following are yesterday's results and today's draw:

BOSTON BOSS SICK

McCarthy Home, Red Sox Flounder

BUFFALO, N.Y., June 23—(UP)—A sick and weary Joe McCarthy brooded at his home today while the baseball world wondered whether the man sometimes called "the greatest manager in baseball history" was washed up.

McCarthy's only comment was an evasive, "We'll talk about that later," when asked point-blank if he would return as manager of the Boston Red Sox. He flew home from Chicago last night on a doctor's orders after remaining in his hotel room since Monday with an attack of pleurisy.

"I feel lousy," said the portly 63-year old manager who guided the New York Yankees to seven world championships and eight American league pennants and twice saw his Red Sox lose the pennant by one game.

CRONIN SILENT

Joe Cronin, general manager of the Red Sox, issued no official statement but the belief was that McCarthy could reclaim his old job as soon as his health permitted if he wants it.

Cronin has answered frequent reports that McCarthy would retire or be fired with a flat declaration that "McCarthy can manage for the Red Sox as long as he wants."

McCarthy himself has said repeatedly that he "wouldn't quit a loser."

But the current situation was ominously similar to McCarthy's retirement as manager of the Yankees in 1946. McCarthy left the club on the road then and returned to his home "for a rest." He never resumed command and remained in retirement until the Red Sox induced him to become their manager in 1948.

Mrs. McCarthy is known to have asked Joe to retire many times and it is believed if Joe took the big step it would be in deference to her.

Red Sox players said McCarthy had been unusually philosophic during their current disappointing western trip but it was a wan and wobbly man who stepped off the plane yesterday.

LIGHTNING DUSTS OFF EIGHT MEN

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., June 23.—(AP)—Eight baseball players and an umpire were knocked down by a bolt of lightning during a game at the naval air station here yesterday.

All nine were taken to the navy dispensary for examination and released.

Artificial respiration was used to revive the pitcher, a second baseman and a third-baseman. The others were cut only briefly.

He attempted to brush aside reporters at first and swung when a photographer moved his camera within range. He smiled for the first time after climbing into his automobile with his wife and a small wire-haired terrier which greeted him wildly.

Asked then, how he felt about his future, McCarthy replied:

"We'll talk about that later. Did you ever feel lousy? Well that's how I feel now—lousy."

Spring favorites to romp away with the American League pennant, the Sox are only two games over the .500 mark and 8½ games behind the league-leading Detroit Tigers.

Jeers Mixed With Cheers As Snead Equals Record

COLUMBUS, O., June 23 — (UP) — Slammin' Sammy Snead fired a four under par 68 which tied the competitive course record and gave him medalist honors in the PGA golf tournament yesterday—to the cheers of the spectators and the jeers of his fellow pros.

A large and loyal gallery applauded Snead's pin-splitting shots as he toured Scioto Country Club's rolling hills and gullies with a 32-36—68 for a 36-hole total of 140.

But when golf's leading money winner—who has banked more than $20,000 in less than six months—pushed his victorious way into the locker room, he was met with a storm of ridicule.

MOUNTAIN MISER

There is a $250 prize for the medallist and the general opinion was that Snead, who automatically qualified for today's match play as the defending champion, should have left that pittance for one of the less successful members of the fairway fraternity.

"The miser from the mountains," one yelled, and another added: "That'll help fill another tomato can, Sam."

While such name pros as Clayton Heafner, Dutch Harrison and Tony Manero were falling by the wayside, Snead moved in two strokes in front of Al Brosch of Garden City, N.Y., who had led the early finishers with a 70 for 142.

Snead started his par-shattering round over Scioto Country Club's deceptive acres with a birdie three on the 450-yard par-four second as he holed out a 40 foot chip shot from the edge of the green. On the sixth he added another birdie when his second shot was over the green of the 534-yard par five hole. He chipped back to the lip of the cup.

On the 512-yard eighth, another par five, his chip was to within two feet for another birdie and he birdied the 152-yard par three ninth by firing his tee shot to within two feet of the flag.

ONE BOGEY

The Slammer matched par through the 15th and on the 422-yard par four 16th took his only bogey when his second shot caught a trap. He made up that stroke on the 18th with a birdie four, putting his second on the 490-yard, par five layout to the edge of the carpet, chipping to within two feet and then knocking it home.

Before Snead came blazing in, only three men had bettered or matched par. Brosch was two under with his 142 and at 144, even figures, was former National Open champion Lloyd Mangrum.

Johnny Palmer of Badin, N.C., last year's runner-up to Snead, had 76 and Skip Alexander of Knoxville came in with 72, both finishing with 147 totals. Jimmy Demaret, of Ojai, Calif., and Tony Penna of Cincinnati shot 74 and 73 respectively for 148's.

On the fringe 15 with 150 were Vic Ghezzi, the 1941 champion, with a 71 and Claude Harmon, former Masters champion from Mamaroneck, N.Y., with a 77.

PUCK SHORT

Bill Gadsby 'Movie' Star

Attention all you autograph hounds: Bill Gadsby, who outfields it with Calgary Buffaloes in the summer months, now rates as a movie "star."

Associated Screen News is in the process of making a feature short called "Hockey Stars' Summer. Recently the cameraman dropped by at Buffalo Stadium, Calgary, and turned their 'Brownies' on "Gadsby," who plays defence for Chicago Black Hawks of the National Hockey league.

Other hockey aces scheduled to appear in the short include Detroit's Ted Lindsay, Roy Conacher, Chicago, and the famed Bentley brothers, Max and Doug, of Delisle.

BASEBALL ENTRIES CLOSE JULY 5

Entries in the Northern Alberta Baseball Association's playdowns are being received spasmodically by registrar Earl Samis. To date he has had inquiries from Camrose, Vegreville and Holden.

Samis pointed out last night that all clubs desirous of entering into playdowns leading to provincial titles must be registered with him by July 5. Players in the Juvenile, midget and junior age brackets must submit birth certificates with their registration forms.

Semis can be contacted at 10138 100 A street, Edmonton.

Hoadley Steady At Hillcrest

Bill Hoadley had the steadiest hand of all at the Hillcrest Gun club last night, registering the only 25 of the evening. George Dame finished second with 24, one more that Bill Lothian, Bill Majaux and Butch Schlender.

Other top scorers were Mac Morrison, Bill Johnson and Bill Belty, all with 20, and Sam Davies, Bob McGreavy and Bill Hicks, with 19 each.

Henceforth shooting at Hillcrest will be limited to Thursday nights only. Publicity agent Belty announced last night that the Sunday shoots would be discontinued until mid-August due to the small attendance and urged the club on the Sabbath during the early summer.

NORTH ADAMS, Mass. (UP)—Ken Murray, 146, Waterville, outpointed Bert Gagnon, 144, Lewiston, Me., (8).

PAT McGILL RETURNS TO RASSLIN' WARS

Irish Pat McGill, a local favorite, returns to the wrestling scene in Edmonton next Tuesday night at the Stock Pavilion.

McGill has been out of action for the past six months with a broken leg, suffered while grappling with Stu Hart in Idaho Falls.

Promoter Al Oeming's card will feature an Australian Tag Match with McGill and Chief Thunderbird taking on Al 'Mr. Murder' Mills and Lou Newman.

The semi-windup has Stu Hart tangling with Boston's Laverne Baxter. Baxter has the reputation of being called the 'Beast,' due to his rough style of rasslin.

on the TOWN...

Edmonton Today

Edmonton has a population nudging 150,000. Edmonton still presents world-renowned artists in a stock arena. Edmonton is almost as big as Salt Lake City and still has only three small municipal swimming pools.

Edmonton is the biggest city between Winnipeg and Vancouver and has only enough policemen for a city half the size. (And Edmonton pays the policemen it has not nearly enough.)

Edmonton's city hall wouldn't look too good in Devon. Edmonton girls would look good anywhere.

Edmonton is the best city in the west.

The bride was at the church, radiant as the dawn. The groom was there too, as happy as they come. So was the preacher, the relatives and all the other wedding guests.

The late Damon Runyon would have bet six to one that a marriage would ensue. He would have lost. Somebody overlooked the very essential item of a licence to get married.

The minister naturally refused to tie the knot.

I am told by a friend that this sad situation developed yesterday at a South Side church.

Too bad the motor vehicle licencing regulations don't apply to forgetful couples. Then the minister could hang a placard on the groom's back proclaiming: "Licence applied for."

Tram Ticket Tip

Another good way to keep from losing tram tickets is to tear your dollar sheets into single tickets and hold 'em together with an ordinary paper clip.

Alf Stanton of General Filtern Supply Co. sent in this valuable clip tip. He even sent along practical demonstration, only he used little pieces of paper instead of car tickets. Thanks a whole lot just the same, Mr. Stanton.

Wide Search For Autoist 'Closing In'

More Information Obtained On Driver Who Struck Woman

Police search is closing in on the hit-and-run driver who early Sunday sent an Edmonton woman to hospital with two broken legs.

The victim, Grace Blackwood, 30, of 11340-97 street, is reported in "good" condition at Royal Alexandra Hospital.

Deputy Chief Alex Riddell said several more people have reported seeing the grey 1936 or 1937 sedan which struck down Miss Blackwood in a Jasper and 106 street safety zone just after midnight, Sunday.

CAN IDENTIFY

"We can identify the man once we get him," said Chief Riddell.

The man was described as short and nervous by witnesses who saw him walk back to the accident scene Sunday, view his victim then drive away without doing anything for her.

Police, detectives and RCMP are on the lookout for the car and a public appeal for information has been issued by the police and Alberta Safety Council.

Reward of $500 for arrest and conviction of the driver has been offered by Alberta Motor Association.

FAIR BOARD NAMES TWO

C. D. Jacox and Carl Berg were appointed to the Pat Edmonton on the Map committee by Exhibition directors at their meeting in the Arena Thursday night.

Directors said they could not agree with the suggestion the exhibition should spear head the plan to put Edmonton on the map but were willing to cooperate with other organizations in any plans which would help to boost the city.

Gay Singers Earn Praise For Concert

By BARNEY McKINLEY
Bulletin Staff Writer

Well . . . where to start . . . It was quite a concert.

To sketch in the background—Edmonton's four-singing Camillos last night presented a program before an enthusiastic sellout audience in the Canadian Legion's Memorial Hall.

They were assisted by a stellar lot of guest artists.

There 25 events on the two-hour program including grand finale presentation of Guido's Ave Maria with six-year-old Tony Camillo in the solo role.

That's the general outline.

MANY NUMBERS

The Camillos part of the program was broken into three main parts. Scottish numbers, Italian numbers and modern. Most of the "breaking" was done by Welsh Emcee Jack Jones, just to add to the international flavor.

There were also some Irish selections, French solos, Swedish accordion music, and an impersonation of Hitler.

At one point the Welsh Emcee and two of the Camillos sang "Mae-Namara's Band." It was that kind of a concert.

In brief, it was league of nations affair that added up to a big $1's worth of entertainment.

Size of the show was young Tony Camillo—fresh from appearances in Hollywood Bowl, and as an actor boy in San Francisco Opera Company role to which he is returning this fall.

Assisting artists included Vic Bostrom, accordionist; dancers Helen and Allyson Smith, the Stosher family accordion trio, adagio dancers Dolores Love and Gary Stevens.

Well-known violinist Egon Graf-penlin also appeared, and Bernard Turgeon, popular young French vocalist, sang two numbers.

Big part in the lengthy program was played by Gloria and Margherita Camillo in numbers varying from Scotch comic to the sacred Ave Maria.

Lady pipe major Jessie Duguid of Edmonton Girl's Pipe Band supplied bagpipe accompaniment for Scottish—and Irish—dances.

BIG PART

Work of star Vanetta Camillo, oldest of the group and a television and concert veteran in California, was hampered by attack of larynx girls.

There were other troubles too—and they can be blamed on George.

George is George Camillo, Violetta's brother and he forgot to bring the candles for the Ave Maria number so the group had to sing under full stage lights.

"There was water running down my head I was so embarrassed," he said afterwards.

They are starting on a Canadian tour "about a week after school adjourns."

SO THAT'S WHAT it stands for? American Eagle Scout Jerry Windham, 17, Castle Rock, Washington, compares badges with his Canadian brother, King Scout Patrol Leader Don walker, 15, of 11734-85 street.

Young Yanks 'Take Over' City Station

By MIKE MARTIN
Bulletin Staff Writer

At 2.57 p.m. yesterday the CNR station was as quiet and as orderly a place you'd find anywhere in the city.

Came 2:58 p.m.—and, brother!

Hordes of boys clad in olive and khaki uniforms burst into the main waiting room—destination, the ice cream bar.

The Americans were here again—this time a younger generation.

En route for the 40th anniversary Jamboree of the U.S. boy scout movement, to be held at Valley Forge, Pennsylvania, July 27-July 6, 460 smartly-dressed, laughing boy scouts, stopped off at Edmonton for a half-hour.

And what a half-hour.

EVERYTHING SHOT

Approximately 460 rolls of film were exposed and a similar amount of ice cream cones disposed.

The friendly bunch of fresh-faced youngsters, lost little time in focusing their cameras on everything and anything. The buzz of the movie camera mingled with the click of shutters.

Main objective of their lenses were a group of Canadian scouts, representing five Edmonton and district troops, who formed a reception committee.

Long-lost brothers wouldn't have received a warmer welcome.

The boys formed groups and explained their badges, their scout life, their traditions and, in fact, everything that 30 minutes would allow.

There was a more senior welcoming committee headed by Premier Manning, but they remained in the background chatting to the 20 leaders who are fathering the American boys on their trip.

The premier wisely kept his welcoming address short.

Yes, youth certainly had its fling at the station. The waiting room won't be the same for a long time.

The boys, who will form part of the 47,000 scouts attending the jamboree from all over the world, will be joined by 200 representing the boy scout movement in Canada.

Fellowship In United Nations

A Canadian student will be selected as winner of a UNESCO fellowship tenable for six months, part of which will be spent at United Nations headquarters in the United States and in Europe.

Albertans who wish to obtain details of the award should contact the provincial department of education at Edmonton.

The fellowship has a value of $300 a month while the winner is in the United States and $200 a month while in Europe. Travelling and other incidental allowances will also be provided.

Big Display Of Pictures

Edmonton will have the "largest and best" picture exhibit in Canada at this year's exhibition.

Plans for the first international salon were outlined to exhibition directors at their meeting in the Arena Thursday night by P. Bentley, Vancouver, who has been making the selection.

Two rooms will be filled with studies by Canadian and American artists. An additional two rooms will house works by foreign artists.

"This is one of the largest international exhibits to be held in Canada since before the First Great War," Mr. Bentley told the directors.

Countries from which the pictures will come include China, India, Italy, Sweden, Denmark, Australia, Hungary, Spain, Portugal, Brazil, Great Britain.

Sheep Farming Showing Profit In North Areas

Wool gathering for profit is beginning to gain impetus in the northern Alberta area—and the profits are beginning to gather for the wool.

A forecast rise in wool prices as the world's wartime wool surplus shrinks, coincides with the full rush of the wool clip in this area, R. W. Shopland, secretary of the Alberta Provincial Sheep Breeders' Association, said yesterday.

The co-op has already received 100,000 pounds of wool, mostly garnered from the small farm flocks of 20 head or so, common in the northern part of the province and garnered since the clip began around the middle of May.

To the total must be added the amount purchased by private dealers throughout the area.

The wool crop, however, is only about half of the 1942 peak year, Mr. Shopland said, though it represents a levelling off from 1945's minimum crop.

News of advancing wool prices is also contained in a news release from the Canadian Co-operative Wool Growers' Limited, which states that wool is in short supply throughout the world and in keen general demand.

Although the northern Alberta flocks are mainly coarse wool animals and produced more for the lamb crop, dealers forecast an increase in flocks "if breeding ewes are available."

Car Speeding Is Protested

Highlands Community Association will protest to city council alleged truck "speeding" on 65 and 66 streets, announced Association President Tom Sharlo Wednesday.

He said interest had been stirred in the Highlands community by Tuesday's fatal accident on 109 street at 40 avenue, where a school child on a bicycle was in collision with a truck.

The question of banning truck traffic from the two streets had been brought up several times within the association, said Mr. Sharlo, but action will be taken next month following the July meeting.

'Quake Kills One

QUITO, Ecuador, June 23.—(UP)—One person was reported killed and several injured during a moderate earthquake last night. Damage was reported from the towns of Saquisili, Lasso, Alendanas and Latacunga.

New Brewery Permitted To Forestall Monopoly

Alberta government's approval of construction by a private Alberta company of a brewery at Red Deer was a safeguard against an "iron-clad" monopoly in the brewing industry.

The statement was made by Premier E. C. Manning following a protest by labor factions in Edmonton that operation of the new brewery would further decrease work schedule of employees of the industry.

Mr. Manning said consumption of beer had increased 500 per cent in Alberta since the beginning of the war.

SOME EXPAND

"It is quite true that existing breweries are expanding their facilities, but to prohibit operation to another brewery would have virtually encouraged an iron clad monopoly in the industry," the Premier said.

The Alberta government, he said, has no interest in or intention to promote the brewing industry in the province." Approval of the new project was requested by the company only because permission of the province is required before a Dominion license can be granted. Provincial permission was given subject to rigid conditions.

The company was given no guarantee.

Rebuke Given For False Alarm

An Edmonton woman who turned in a false fire alarm was severely reprimanded at yesterday's police court.

Magistrate S. G. Main told the woman "you have been in custody for three days and you know what it is like being in jail. Let that be a warning."

"There is enough danger to operators at real fires without being called out by false alarms."

Accused said she turned in the alarm "on the spur of the moment." She received a suspension of sentence for one year.

Picnic Planned By Beekeepers

There will be plenty of "sweet talk" at Lacombe on the July 1 holiday.

Members of the Calgary and Edmonton Beekeepers' Association will hold their annual picnic at the Dominion Experimental Station there.

Talks on comb honey production and bee keeping generally will be featured, and bee hives and extracting equipment will be demonstrated. Any beekeeper in Alberta is invited to attend.

Long Show No Trouble, Patrons Get Cushions

Grandstand patrons at this year's exhibition will be able to watch events in comfort. They will be supplied with cushions free.

Exhibition directors at their Thursday night meeting decided patrons of the 3,000 seats available in the new grandstand should not have to sit on the hard concrete so they authorized purchase of cushions of a temporary type.

Discussing a previous suggestion that chairs from the arena should be used in the grandstand, directors were told it was not possible owing to the different type of installation.

Use of Arena seats would not use space to the best advantage a letter from the architect pointed out.

MORE SEATS

Prior to their meeting directors inspected the new grandstand, expressing satisfaction at its appearance to date.

This year 3,000 seats will be available but when completed it will seat 8,000. Part-mutual booths are being erected on the first floor under cover from which patrons will also be able to watch the races.

Temporary press and radio booth is being erected in the centre just to the rear of the seats in front of the stand will be the judges stand and the "eye in the sky."

Furnishers Hold Picnic

A crowd of 40 turned out for the annual picnic of members of the Edmonton Home Furnishers' Association, held yesterday at South Cooking Lake.

The outing was held at the cottage grounds of W. T. Henry, chairman of Alberta College's board of governors. It was attended be public officials, guests and businessmen.

President of the association, T. H. Campbell presided.

Winners of the W. T. Henry cup for baseball throw were Charles Fanny, Sterling Furniture Co., and Bob Miller, a visitor from the east.

The Marshall Wells cup went to Bert Easton's Furniture Store and Harvey Day, Bloorey-Henry Ltd.

Two-Year Term After Forgery

Hugo J. Paquette was sentenced to two year's imprisonment on each of two charges — false pretenses and forgery — in police court Thursday.

Sentences are concurrent.

SINGAPORE, June 23.—(Reuter)—Communist guerrillas shot and killed a policeman in the Taiping area of Perak yesterday.

TRAIL DAYS ARE RECALLED

If Sleeping Out Was Tough Due to Pillow That Was Rough

When old-timers get together to talk about pioneer days, Alberta's rancher lieutenant-governor can hold his own with the best of them.

Hon. J. J. Bowlen proved it recently when he reminded the pensioners of hardy half-century-past days during an address to the Edmonton Old Age Pensions Society.

The pensioners loved it. Most of them were fortune-seeking adventurers in the new province at the time his honor began collecting the yarns of the prairies he tells so well now.

Most of the stories he told the pensioners were personal experiences, like the time he was stopped by the rampaging Red Deer river while trail-herding horses to Manitoba.

Settlers along the river told the cowboy who eventually became governor that he would have to wait three weeks before he could ford the flood-swollen river.

He took a chance and drove the herd of horses into the water.

"I wasn't half way across before I stopped worrying about the horses and started worrying about myself. But as it happened, while I wasn't much of a swimmer, my horse was good enough for the crossing.

His best recollection brought vigorous agreement from the old timers.

"Those were the days when you slept out in the open and if there was a rock where your pillow would have been if you'd had a pillow, you just hitched yourself 'round to the other side of it."

Pepper Grinders Start New Spice-Mill Fads

By Ben Thrifty

Modern kitchens may have a laboratory-like efficiency . . . but the women who cook in them are leaning toward granny's way of doing things . . . in at least one respect.

Today's homemakers have taken to grinding their own spices, coffee and herbs. It's an old-new trick and bright little grinders are just making their way to our local markets.

It's the gay little pepper grinder selling at $1.95 that caught my roving eye. You sift this kitchen-kraft out in your own noggin and see what you think of the business of grinding your own spices . . . blending them as you go along.

* * *

House-cleaning time inspires housewives to add new towels and bed linens to their own stock, too.

And there's more to the job of picking out good quality than looking for an attractive color or a good looking package. Here are some tips on buying both sheets and towels . . . for the bride's hope chest or for the family's linen closet:

* * *

Wise department manager in a local store told me this about terry towels.

He said that most reliable mills advise looking for a firm, close underweave. That means the towel is strong and durable. Surface loops should be close and thick, too. Closer the loop . . . the more the towel will absorb.

* * *

Good quality terry-towelling may feel soft, medium soft . . . or rough . . . just like the Three Bears.

Men, of course, often prefer towels with a hard, rough texture . . . and they like them big, big, big. So it's a good idea to open them out and check the size.

Prices range from 35c for a small finger-tip towel to as much as $4.95 for a single bath towel of giant size. Anywhere in between you'll get a bargain-buy . . . if you know what to look for.

* * *

There are simple ways to check the quality of sheets, too.

First on the list is close examination to see if said sheet has a firm, close weave. Then hold piece of sheet to the light and see if the lengthwise and crosswise threads are of the same thickness . . . they should be.

* * *

Sometimes a sheet can look deceptively fine and strong on the counter and after the first washing it looks sleezy and loose woven. This means it's had an over-dose of starch or "sizing" in the first place.

To check for this, it's a bonny idea to rub parts of the sheet together over a dark surface. If a white, powdery material comes out, you'll know the sheet has been heavily sized. Some sizing or special starch is added to all sheets to give a smooth finish. It can be done with no effect on the quality or the wear.

But a high quality sheet has a minimum of sizing . . . and the label "no weighing" means no overdose of starch has been used.

* * *

CHECK THE VACATION possibilities and plan something different—and restful to you.

WHY GROW OLD

Vacation Is for Rest So Don't Wear Yourself Out

By Josephine Lowman

This is the time of year when everyone begins thinking about a vacation of some kind.

They begin planning one, or at least they dream about one a bit.

RETURN TIRED

Too often men and women return from vacation less simply worn to a frazzle! They are much more fatigued when they return than they were when they started.

SOME ENJOY IT

For some people the stimulation of travel, of seeing new parts of the country, of visiting some dreamed-of spot, is enough to make up for the physical wear and tear of driving many miles in a short time. For others it is not worth the cost in energy or in money.

The point I am making is that your vacation should provide rest mentally and emotionally, as well as physically. You should do something different and get out of that daily routine some way. This is most refreshing to everyone. We all need a change of pace at least once a year.

IT'S HARD WORK

It is always a good idea to warn a vacationer not to overdo. Many who have been working at desks all year or who have led very sedentary lives, go to the mountains or to the woods, walk miles upon miles each day, do some mountain climbing, go to high elevations when they have heart trouble, chop wood, play golf all day long, or swim long distances. These activities, to the extreme are actually dangerous when one is not in training for them. Many men have died of heart attacks while on vacation.

If you are going camping you might like to have my leaflet, "Tricks in Camping." If so, send a stamped, self-addressed envelope with your request for leaflet No. 60 to Josephine Lowman in care of this newspaper.

DOROTHY DIX SAYS

Demands Expensive Gifts From Her Teen-Aged Beau

DEAR MISS DIX: We have a son who will be 17 next month. He goes with a girl who is also going to have a birthday during that month.

The girl started a campaign for a diamond ring right after Christmas and my son insists he is going to get her one, which is absurd, considering that we are in very moderate circumstances. What can be done when Son threatens to join the navy, quit school or do something equally ridiculous when he is denied anything he wants?

How can we impress upon him the necessity of his pursuing his high school course without buying this girl whatever she demands? She already has his watch as well as numerous articles of less value.

WORRIED MOTHER.

ANSWER: It seems to me that you have a couple of hold-up artists to deal with and that the thing to do is to call their bluff. The girl is holding up your son for a diamond ring and everything else she can get out of him by making her favor the price of his standing and delivering, and your son is holding up you and his father by threatening to leave school and join the navy if you don't give him the ring he asks.

That, incidentally, would be a good thing for him, for he sadly needs the discipline that he would get in the service, and to be delivered out of the hands of the little grafter for whom he has fallen.

DON'T PAY FOR RING

Of course, you cannot do anything with the girl except indirectly to block her game, but you can certainly stop the boy's giving her a diamond ring by refusing to pay for it. It takes money to buy jewelry, and if you absolutely refuse to supply it you automatically save your boy from his folly, for no merchant will be silly enough to sell a schoolboy without a job a diamond ring if he knows that his parents will not pay for it.

Have a heart, but also have a backbone in dealing with him, and don't be moved by his raving nor by his threats of the direful things he is going to do. He won't do them and, oh, how grateful he will be to you for teaching him early in life how little worth the price are bought kisses and the affection that has to be continually stimulated with gifts.

Tobe on Fashion —

The Men's Fad for Plaid Caps Is Appropriated by the Ladies

Most of you know that the plaid cotton cap is the fad of the year for men—even for those who have sworn they'd never wear a cap. Now it's being appropriated by the ladies too—not just the fashion, but the actual men's caps.

College girls started it, of course, as they do so many of our cute young fashions. They are wearing them like a beret with the visor pulled over one ear—with a rakish little boy look. Because the caps are cotton, they are not too hot to wear on the beach with sun-clothes, too.

CREAM PIE

1 pint milk
1 cup sugar
3 eggs (yolks)
4 tbsps. flour
1 tsp. butter
1 tsp. vanilla
¼ tsp. salt

Put milk in double boiler, mix. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly until slightly thickened. Sift flour, sugar, salt and beaten yolks all together, beat well, add to boiling milk. Then add butter and vanilla, cool, then turn into a baked shell. Beat whites of eggs until stiff and sweeten with 2 tbsps sugar, spread on pie and brown in oven.

Horoscope

Look in the section in which your birthday comes and find what your outlook is, according to the stars.

FOR SATURDAY, June 24, 1950

March 21 to April 20 (Aries)—If you know your capacity and keep within those limitations, you won't have strain or make haste-errors. Stars suggest you be wise, don't take undue or foolish chances. Easy on the temper.

April 21 to May 20 (Taurus)—Excellent day for you who watch your education and know the right way around. Planetary indications favor extra special deals and contracts—even expansive propositions—if sound.

May 21 to June 21 (Gemini)—Some unfreshness. Blend study, research and planning for tomorrow's action into your schedule. Better to be content with holding your own than to try something that may fail.

June 22 to July 23 (Cancer)—Watch inclination to be too forceful, to proceed before you have consulted, investigated. Deference and politeness often gets you farther than cold money, even ambition.

July 24 to August 22 (Leo)—He who deliberates, has a friendly smile and uses some system, can progress and can guide others to achievement. There are fine opportunities to many endeavors of your choice.

August 23 to September 23 (Virgo)—Auspicious aspects abound in your day's or "ok. You can advance in favorite work, profession, sports. Have the right urge and go confidently after your goals. Romance highly favored.

September 24 to October 23 (Libra)—Be alert, on the job; vibrations very mobile. Shut your eyes and ears to unwanted outside interference and you should turn in excellent day's gains. Heart interests stimulating.

October 24 to November 22 (Scorpio)—Today's aspects aren't the exhilarating ones so abundant these days. Avoid needless clashes with employers or employees; be genial and fare better. Don't strain.

November 23 to December 23 (Sagittarius)—Caution here not to exceed your capacity or be "down in the dumps." Either can spoil chances. The unusual and clever favored, if handled rightly. Avoid moodiness, temper.

December 23 to January 21 (Capricorn)—Go slow-but-sure; don't jump to conclusions and do not fear problems. Sound new devices and inventions favor channels, also handling higher type activities, securities.

January 22 to February 20 (Aquarius)—Mark time a bit; plan for fuller activity. Tomorrow's planets in improved positions. This doesn't mean to idle—just be sagacious. Strive for the higher things.

February 21 to March 20 (Pisces)—Some things may irk, but don't let them defeat good purpose and cheery humor. Be ingenious, original—you can, and will be surprised at results. Have confidence, avoid recklessness.

You Born Today—Generally amiable, friendly and full of talk and ideas. Love your home and children and are usually tender in attitude. You may be overcautious and you are often very sensitive of others attitude or speech; try to overcome this. In opposite mood, you can be tenacious, egotistical, arbitrary—which can lead you into troubled waters. Use your ingeniousness to best advantage and you can hit your mark in almost any line. Many fine traits; use them. Birthdate: Hospital Kitchener, Brit. field marshal; Martha Sleeper, stage and screen.

MR. AND MRS. PAUL GEORGE (TIM) ROONEY

Mary Carlisle Weds Tim Rooney At All Saints' Cathedral Here

Lovely June bride Mary Elizabeth Barker Carlisle pledged vows with Paul George (Tim) Rooney at All Saints' Cathedral this week.

Blush satin and Brussels lace was fashioned in a model wedding gown for the bride who was given in marriage by her uncle H. G. Campbell.

She is the daughter of Mrs. A. E. Carlisle and late Mr. Carlisle. Bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Doris Rooney of Calgary. Dean A. M. Trendell performed the ceremony at the cathedral altar banked with pink and white peonies.

LACE-OVER-SATIN

Fragile-patterned lace-over-satin formed the bodice of the bride's gown which was fashioned with lily-point sleeves, petal-scalloped neckline and vertical inserts of lace in the skirt.

Her veil of heirloom Brussels lace cascaded softly into a slight train from a halo of lace-over-satin and orange blossoms. She wore a single strand of pearls, gift of the bridegroom, and carried Pink Delight roses in a semi-cascade.

Ice-green brocade gown, styled similarly to the bride's, was chosen for bridesmaid Helen McGregor. Her accessories included matching net mittens and a cluster bouquet of pink carnations.

Richard Robinson was best man. Ushering guests to the pews marked with nosegays of sweetpeas were Gordon McKay, Joseph Holdsworth and Robert Price.

RUTH CULLERNE SOLOIST

Music for the wedding was played by organist Dorothy Teape and Ruth Cullerne sang O Perfect Love during the signing of the register.

Following the ceremony a reception for 80 guests was held at the Macdonald hotel drawing room when Mrs. Carlisle, mother of the bride, received wearing a grey faille floor-length gown, styled with floating panel and a corn-flower-trimmed model hat of matching grey.

Her accessories were blue and her corsage of gardenias and cornflowers.

GRANDMOTHER RECEIVES

Mrs. Rooney received at her son's wedding in an after-five-length frock of blue Chantilly lace and blending accessories. She wore an orchid corsage.

Mrs. Francis F. Reeve, grandmother of the bridegroom, received wearing a floor-length gown of champagne-colored lace with an orchid corsage and shaded champagne accessories.

Mrs. John Gow, aunt of the bride, and Mrs. M. R. Upton of Victoria presided at the bride's table which was decorated with a three-tiered cake embedded in pink tulle and topped with a tiny bouquet of Sweetheart roses and sweet peas. It was flanked with bouquets of pink and white peonies and carnations and slender white tapers.

A toast to the bride was proposed by Dean Trendell.

Leaving for Jasper, where the couple will spend their honeymoon, the bride donned a navy barathea suit, complemented with a navy straw sailor, model hat, pink accessories, and a corsage of pink roses.

The newlyweds will make their home in Calgary for the summer. In the fall they will move to Pasadena, Calif., where the bridegroom will complete his post-graduate studies in mathematics at the California Institute of Technology.

Parents Hold Tea To Honor Daughter Before Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. John H. Thorogood entertained recently in honor of their daughter Jean Evelyn and her fiance Andrew (Dick) Watson.

They will be wed tomorrow at Holy Trinity Church.

More than 80 men and women signed the guest book during the afternoon and evening.

Mrs. Thorogood welcomed guests wearing a powder blue afternon frock and a corsage of pink carnations. Her daughter chose a rose crepe dress accented with matching Chantilly lace. Her corsage was of cream roses. Mrs. John T. Watson, mother of the bridegroom-elect, wore a navy blue frock with deep rose-colored carnations.

Presiding at the tea-urns were Mrs. James Barclay, Mrs. B. Cormick, Mrs. A. Dakin, Miss Mae Griffith and Mrs. John Garrett.

Assisting in serving were Mrs. Reginald Lewin, sister of the bridegroom-elect, Mrs. David Thorogood, Miss Margaret Rymer, Mrs. John Lowes, sister of the bride-to-be, and Mrs. Ralph Miller, sister of the bridegroom-elect, showed the wedding gifts and trousseau.

A hand-made lace cloth covered the tea-table which was centred with bowls of shaded carnations.

ST. EDMUND'S CHURCH was the scene of the recent wedding of Miss Katherine Eva Maika and William Raymond Fleming, Jr. Bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Maika of Barry's Bay, Ont. Bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Fleming of Edmonton. Couple will live in Edmonton.

Shaded Peonies Decorate Church For Recent Turner-Scott Vows

BARRHEAD—Pink and white peonies recently decorated Barrhead United Church when wedding rings were exchanged between Miss Margart Jeanette Scott and Frank Kenneth Turner.

Bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Scott of Barrhead. Bridegroom is the son of Mrs. F. B. Turner and the late Mr. Turner of Edmonton.

Dr. Stanley Scott, uncle of the bride, assisted Rev. J. E. Nix in performing the ceremony.

FINGER-TIP VEIL

Bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of white net and English lace fashioned with a high neckline and long sleeves. Coronet of white beads held her finger-tip veil.

She carried a bouquet of red roses. Her only jewelry was a pendant, gift of the bridegroom.

Bridesmaids were gowned alike in frosted organdy. Miss Marguerite Roberts in green and Miss Norma Scott in mauve. They had matching mohair bonnets. Miss Roberts carried pink daisies and Miss Scott, yellow.

Lawrence Moon was best man. Ushers were Sam Boettcher and Lorne Jenken.

Mrs. F. B. McCalla played the wedding music and during the signing of the register Mrs. Lawrence Moon sang "O Perfect Love."

MOTHERS RECEIVE

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Scott chose a grey figured dress. She had a pink hat and corsage of pink roses.

Bridegroom's mother wore a grey flowered dress complemented with black hat and corsage of red roses.

Pink and white streamers and bells decorated the church hall when 130 guests were received at wedding reception. Bride's table was laid with lace cloth and decorated with pink rosebuds and candles. Centring the table was three-tiered cake embedded in tulle.

Mrs. A. Bisset and Mrs. C. Blair poured coffee and Mrs. W. C. McCalla and Mrs. R. Scott cut the ices.

G. F. Hollinshead proposed the toast to the bride.

After honeymoon in Banff, Mr. and Mrs. Turner will make their home in Edmonton. For travelling, bride wore a light blue gabardine suit with white accessories.

Edmonton Man Chooses Bride In Milwaukee; Returning Home

MILWAUKEE—Candelabra and white peonies decorated the alter at Central Methodist Church for the recent wedding of Grayce Margaret Bredin and Herbert Allan Strum of Edmonton.

Bride is daughter of Mr. and Mrs Albert Ryerson Bredin and her husband is son of Mrs. Harvey Allan Strum and the late Mr. Strum of Edmonton.

Rev. George A. Moores performed the double-ring ceremony.

Bride's gown was of net and chantilly lace with a cape forming an illusion yoke edged with lace. Her headdress was a shoulder length veil, Mantilla styled of chantilly lace. Crown was surrounded by small pearls.

She carried a white orchid with feathered carnations.

Miss Bredin chose as her attendants Miss Jacque Mullman and Miss Adelaide Thompson who wore identical ballerina dresses of Viencse violet.

They carried swing bouquets of rubrum lillies.

Howard Jr., Albert William and Robert Bredin, nephews of the bride, served as ushers.

Mrs. Bredin chose a black, white and grey silk print for her daughter's wedding. Mrs. Strum wore a grey faille dress with navy accessories.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at the Houston House for one hundred guests. A five-tier wedding cake, topped with yellow roses centred the tea table.

Those assisting at the reception were Mr. and Mrs. Ryerson A. Bredin, Mrs. Howard H. Bredin, Mrs. Lloyd G. Bredin, Miss Kathleen Sanderson, Miss Virginia Peterson and Miss Laura Strum.

The newly married couple left by car immediately following the reception for Edmonton, Alberta, visiting Yellowstone, Banff and Jasper National Park en route. The bride wore a camelia colored suit with matching felt cloche, and tan accessories accented by a white orchid.

The bride was a member of the teaching staff at the Muskegon Public Schools and a graduate of Michigan State Normal College. Mr. Strum will enter his final year in the faculty of engineering of the University of Alberta at Edmonton.

Mr. and Mrs. Strum will be at home after July 1st at 8515-81 avenue, Edmonton, Alberta, Canada.

YOUR BABY AND MINE

Don't Insist Child Eat Disagreeable Food

By Myrtle Meyer Eldred

Now that we know more about likes and dislikes toward food we recognize the possibility that some of our permanent distastes may come from the unpleasant allergic reaction we get when we try to eat those foods.

We can't leave unmentioned, though, the possibility that a child's temporary dislikes for food may arise because of the unconscious awareness that the adults who feed him this food do not themselves like it.

Just because we are never too sure just why a child may turn his face against a food, is all the more reason why we should not force this food upon him. Maybe to our eyes, the results of eating it may not be dramatic enough to advertise an allergy.

LEARNED TO LIKE THEM

I know from my own experience as an only child that I had literally dozens of dislikes for food.

But no one forced me to eat anything. No one ever told me it "couldn't" eat these foods. I passed them up. As a result I find as an adult that there are few foods I dislike.

I feel sure this is a good method of helping children to achieve a wide liking for all kinds of foods. During the time when they truly dislike the very idea of some foods, give the children the privilege of eating or not eating them.

Our leaflet No. 20, "Under and Over-Feeding," may be had by sending a self-addressed, stamped envelope to Myrtle Meyer Eldred in care of this newspaper.

AFTER 28 YEARS as Edmonton grocer, Thomas Kennedy, 11437 Jasper, is going to close shop and with Mrs. Kennedy return to Ireland for family reunions.

Old Sod Trip Slated After Grocer Retires

There'll be a big reunion in old County Down sometime in the near future when veteran Edmonton grocer T. ("for Thomas") Kennedy goes back to the old sod.

And a party in county Armagh soon after, because that's where Mrs. Kennedy is from and there's people would like to see her once more.

The trip to Ireland marks a big event in the life of 50-year-old grocer whose big yellow and brown grocery store at 11437-39 Jasper avenue has been open for business since 1922.

Now he is going to close shop for the last time on June 30 and retire for good from active business.

The store "retires" with him, he said. The building which houses it has been sold and the new tenants will be in some other line of business.

The Kennedys are not going to stay in Ireland.

"It's just a visit," they emphasized. "We belong in Edmonton now."

Mr. Kennedy will also miss his customers. Yesterday, from behind the grocery counter of his combined grocery-meat store he asked to be remembered to them.

"They've been good, loyal friends," he said. "We came through a depression and the war years together. I won't ever forget them."

HIGH PRAIRIE HELP

Heart River Diversion Work Start Is Ordered

High Prairie may have experienced its last flood.

Alberta minister of agriculture, Hon. David A. Ure announced work will start shortly on the diversion of the Heart River which annually rampages and threatens the northern Alberta town.

The river will be diverted to Winagami lake in a flood control measure.

Contract for the project was awarded to the Square-M Construction Company of Edmonton. The $58,800 project will be financed through the provincial department of water resources.

Barnes Gets Big Contract At Refinery

Multi-million dollar cohtract for offsite facilities at the new British American Oil Co. Ltd. refinery near Clover Bar has been awarded to the W. M. Barnes Construction Co of Canada Ltd.

This was announced here today by J. E. Ford, Los Angeles, vice-president in charge of sales and engineering for the Barnes Construction Co. Ltd.

Mr. Ford said an immediate start will be made at the refinery site, some five miles east of Edmonton, and "hundreds of men will be employed" by his company.

The offsite facilities entail laying of steel piping, a waited system, a water house and construction of all buildings on the refinery site.

He said the work will take from eight to 10 months to complete.

It is understood the contract of the Barnes Co. will amount to between $3,000,000 and $4,000,000.

EQUIPMENT IN

Some equipment has already been moved to the site from the United States but a considerable amount of construction machinery will be purchased in Canada, Mr. Ford said.

Fred Underwood is Canadian representative of the Barnes firm in Edmonton.

Refinery proper and storage tanks are being constructed by the BA Company's own engineering staff.

Total cost of the refinery is estimated at around $10,000,000.

SIXTY PUPILS ARRIVE FROM BLIND SCHOOL

A group of 60 blind students arrived in Edmonton this morning from Montreal.

The boys and girls have completed their school year at the Montreal blind school.

Guides with the party were Miss Vera Kellet and Mr. Ansell.

Smith Dean Of Education

Former member of the department of philosophy and psychology at the University of Alberta, Dr. H. E. Smith has been appointed dean of the faculty of education.

In his appointment, effective with the opening of the fall term, Dr. Smith replaces Dr. M. E. Lazerte, who retired from the university last month and is at present representing Canada at UNESCO conference at Florence, Italy.

Dr. Smith was largely responsible for the consultant's committee as a factor in student education at the university, heading the newly-organized group in 1942.

SUMMER DIRECTOR

In 1944 he was appointed director of the summer session and retained that post three years. For several years he has been faculty representative on the school of graduate studies.

Dr. Smith takes a keen interest in teachers' affairs in Alberta and in 1947 was president of the Alberta Teachers' Association.

Radio Telephone Lines Push North

Twelve Repeater Stations Will Have 80-Foot Steel Towers

A small army of laborers is fighting mud and mosquitoes to push a radio telephone system from Edmonton to Yellowknife.

Transported in small groups into the Northland, Northwest Telephone Company Limited employees are busy establishing 12 repeater stations between Edmonton and the northern terminus of the communication system.

When they are finished, 12 80-foot steel towers will march through the wilderness, symbolizing the new ears and voices of the north and the advent of an era in the potentially rich territory.

The steel towers with their antennae will be the connecting links in the main trunk line of the communication system—850 important miles connecting the north to the markets of the world.

Eventually, when a branch line through Lac La Biche, Waterways and Fort Smith is completed, the system will extend about 1,500 miles, engineers state.

Progress report on the $400,000 system was given in Edmonton today by the company's chief engineer, Alan Hodgson. Just returned from a tour of the main trunk route.

He said a survey of the entire route had now been completed and work would go ahead with increasing momentum.

Emphasis was being placed on completion of Edmonton-Yellowknife communications with branches to follow "as the north develops."

First repeater station on the route, at Athabasca, is now complete, he reported, and buildings and antennae at the next station, Slave Lake, are nearing completion.

Other stations to be established are at Peace River, Hotchkiss, Mells, Upper Hay River, Indian Cabins, Lower Hay River, Fort Point, lonely Outpost Island in the middle of Great Slave Lake, and finally, at Yellowknife.

When completed, the system between here and Yellowknife will consist of three telephone and six teletype circuits.

Construction is being handled by A. M. (Matt) Berry of Edmonton, the man who constructed the airports of the northland.

Mr. Hodgson said today the giant terminal tower on Edmonton's MacLeod Bldg. was also ready physically for service.

"Wiring is being put in and equipment racks installed," he reported.

He said materials were being dispatched north at an accelerating rate and forecast work would be finished within the tight schedule which calls for completion of the system to Yellowknife by the spring of 1951.

Mobile radio-telephone service for logging companies, mines, oil firms and others was a "probable" development, he stated.

Type of service would depend on specific requirements he said.

HOLIDAY ON THE Pacific Coast

One of the most fabulous playgrounds in British Columbia, and easily accessible to Alberta, is planning a vacation in the Pacific Coast province is the area known as the "Glorious Kootenays" in the south-east corner of the province, where the mighty Columbia River joins its main tributary, the Kootenay.

Due to its close proximity to the neighboring province of Alberta this scenic route, which winds its way through lovely fertile valleys, with towering peaks in the background, can be reached from Banff or Jasper National parks via the Banff-Windermere Highway or the Trans-Canada Highway around the Big Bend of the Columbia to Revelstoke, thence to Arrowhead, where connection is made with the Canadian Pacific steamship "Minto" for the trip down the majestic Arrow Lakes.

In the Kootenays, dude ranches, lake resorts, alpine resorts, and spas make a vast playground of this vast wilderness. Every lake, river and stream offers fine sport for the fisherman.

It is well worth while to take time out to explore this magnificent country. The cities, Nelson, Cranbrook, and Revelstoke, for instance, and villages like Nakusp and New Denver, are pleasant places with historic backgrounds, and a sightseer at Fernie, Kimberley and Rossland, mining towns, are interesting if only for their romantic history and development.

Five great national and provincial parks (Kokanee, Revelstoke, Glacier, Hamber and Kootenay) in or bounded by the area have been set aside for public enjoyment, and as one travels along the highways each bend in the road enfolds a new enchantment to the visitor in this rugged but beautiful country of the Kootenays.

Salesmen know Why—

"After switching to B.F.G.'s, I've driven 29,450 miles without a flat. These tires are still in very good condition."
D. M. McDonald, Calgary, Alta.

3 out of 5* SWITCHED TO B.F.Goodrich FROM SOME OTHER BRAND

* A nation-wide survey of the tire customers of B.F. Goodrich dealers from coast to coast shows — that 3 out of every 5 B.F. Goodrich tire buyers switched from some other brand.

Why did they switch?

Salesmen can tell you why they switched. They wanted to get trouble-free motoring . . . wanted to make their calls on time . . . to cover routes on schedule, in safety, and at low cost per mile.

Mileage, safety, comfort, economy — aren't these what you want, too? You can have them! You can get the superior performance made possible by B.F. Goodrich manufacturing and engineering skill. You can enjoy the benefits of B.F.G. research—cooler-running, longer-lasting rubber compounds, improved tread and body design and the advanced tire building methods. When you switch to B.F.G., they are all yours!

There's a friendly B.F.G. tire dealer near you. He's one of the B.F. Goodrich family of 5,000 trained tire specialists and service experts. He'll help keep your tires in first class condition, the year 'round!

Ask him to show you the new B.F.G. Silvertowns and the famous Seal-o-matic safety tubes that seal punctures instantly . . . permanently, as you ride! See him today!

Manufacturers, Too, Choose B.F. Goodrich

If your new car, truck or tractor is equipped with B.F.Goodrich tires, take advantage of your dealer's free tire inspection service for long, trouble-free mileage that is built into all B.F. Goodrich tires.

"A friend urged me to switch to B.F.Goodrich and extra value. Blowout protection, extra-tough B.F.G. super-sidewall construction, and 40,000 road-gripping tread." P. W. Bell, Victoria, B.C.

"I wanted more mileage for my money, so I switched to B.F. Goodrich. I've driven 50,000 miles and my B.F.G. tires look good for as many more." F. H. Lender, Fort Rouge, Man.

"I appreciate the value of B.F. Goodrich rubber research. Since I switched to B.F.G. Tires I've had completely trouble-free driving." P. L. Brown, Ottawa, Ont.

"I got record mileage from my last set of B.F. Goodrich tires, so naturally I bought B.F.G.'s again." M. B. Henderson, Winnipeg, Man.

"Seal-o-matics bought in 1939 are still in dependable service in my B.F.G. tires, giving me greater safety, greater economy, plus freedom from punctures." H. Geddes, Courtenay, B.C.

Iroquois Once Lived In Northern Alberta

In this vast country of ours, travel is simple in modern times. A few days by train can take you from coast to coast and an airplane can whisk you across the mountains in no time at all.

But many years ago, before the white men came to Canada, most travel was on foot. Because of that, there were many different tribes and many different languages. The Haidas in British Columbia had never heard of the Blackfeet and they in turn had never heard of the eastern Iroquois.

BAND OF IROQUOIS

So it is very interesting to hear that a band of Iroquois once lived in Alberta. The story was told by Father Lacombe in an interview with a writer.

He said that when John Rowand was in charge of the trading post at Edmonton, or Fort des Prairies, some 40 young Iroquois at Sault St. Louis, near Montreal, were engaged by the Hudson's Bay Company.

CAME BY CANOE

The party left Montreal and Lachine in the spring and came by canoe, through Lakes Superior and Winnipeg and along the north branch of the Saskatchewan River to Edmonton. They came equipped with everything to hunt beaver along the Battle River, Red Deer and many little streams then swarming with the precious animal.

At that time the beaver skin demanded high prices on the market, the missionary reported. After two or three years, the Iroquois caught hundreds of beaver and soon made enough money to buy their own outfits of ammunition, traps, knives, blankets and food. They then left Edmonton and went in the direction of the Rocky Mountains, where they finally settled at the head of the Athabasca River.

LIVED LIKE BROTHERS

"These Iroquois were living together like brothers," said the priest, "sharing their good luck and bad luck."

At that time, the Sikanals and Shoushwap Indians were camping and hunting in the area and soon became friends of the Iroquois.

Not having been married in their own country, the young Iroquois took the Indian maidens for their wives. In later years, the women and children spoke their own dialect and learned the language of their husbands and fathers.

JOINED BY CREES

Later the group was joined by a party of Cree halfbreeds, whose dialect soon became predominant, especially among the young folk. In 1845, Father de Suet, coming from Missouri, passed the winter at Edmonton and proceeded west to Fort Jasper, he met this band of Iroquois, Crees, Sikanal and Shoushwap Indians and baptized and converted many of the group.

Ten years later, Father Lacombe himself went to visit the tribe and spent 15 days teaching and baptizing. In later years, when hunting became poor, the whole band moved to Edmonton and later spread out through all northern Alberta. In the following years they all married into the local tribes until no sign of any Iroquois blood can be found.

Sincerely,

Jean Walker

It Looked Too Good

NILES, Mich. (UP)—Several housewives called police when two men offered to give them $5 bills. Leslie J. Deffly and Gene Belknap, both 20, convinced authorities they were furniture salesmen and had offered the money as a "come on" to get a chance to start their sales patter.

Cornell University, Ithaca, N.Y. was established in 1865.

Uncle Wiggily's Bedtime Story

Uncle Wiggily and his friends were very much surprised when they saw, written in mud letters over the door of Old Dog Tray's house, the new name—WIPE YOUR FEET.

"Wiggy, I don't believe that's the name of anyone now living in the doghouse," said Mrs. Longears. "There couldn't be any such name as Wipe Your Feet."

"Surely it is a very strange name," admitted Uncle Wiggily. "What do you think it means, my dear?"

"I think," said the rabbit lady-wife, "that someone else has come here to live in Old Dog Tray's house. And whoever it is wants to keep the doghouse clean. So whoever it is just put up the sign 'WIPE YOUR FEET.' That means wipe your feet before you come in."

"That's a good idea," said Uncle Wiggily. "But I wonder who is now living in the doghouse."

"Why don't you ring the bell and find out?" asked Mr. Bow Wow.

"I'll do that," said the rabbit uncle. He pushed the button. Inside the doghouse the bell could be heard ringing. But no one opened the door, so Uncle Wiggily rang again—and a third time.

"You might as well stop ringing," said a voice behind Uncle Wiggily and his friends. "He won't answer the bell until noon."

Uncle Wiggily and his friends turned around to see who had spoken. They saw a big mud turtle who was walking on his hind legs, using a cane to brace himself so he wouldn't fall over.

"No use ringing the bell," said this mud turtle again. "He never gets up until noon and then he has breakfast in bed. Oh, he is very stylish."

"Who is stylish?" asked Uncle Wiggily.

"Squankum," answered the upright mud turtle.

"Who is Squankum?" asked Uncle Butter.

"Oh, he's a big mud turtle, just like me," was the answer, "only bigger. My name is Stickum. I don't pretend to be stylish. I live in a mud house, like all the other turtles on this island. But not Squankum. He had to be stylish. And when he found that Old Mr. Tray had moved out of the doghouse, Squankum moved in. Talk about style! Why Squankum hardly ever talks to us other mud turtles."

"Who put up that sign 'WIPE YOUR FEET' over the door?" asked Mrs. Twistytail the fat lady Pig.

"Oh, that was Squankum's idea," answered Stickum. "Maybe if you ring the bell again, Squankum will now open the door and speak to you."

"I'll try it," said the rabbit gentleman. He rang the bell again, very loud and then a voice in the doghouse called:

"Just a moment. I'll be right down!"

"Ha! Ha!" laughed Uncle Wiggily. "At last I am going to meet a stylish mud turtle."

I'll tell you more tomorrow if the grasshopper will please stop jumping over the head of cabbage when it is eating a sauerkraut sandwich for breakfast.

A LAKE RESORT

With Immense Possibilities

Situated on a main paved highway, 50 miles from Edmonton, in the heart of a rapidly developing district. Fronting on the lake are 10 cabins, a modern store, a dance hall, bathing beach, boats and motors, etc. Also a modern 6-room bungalow, with bathroom, electric lights, etc. The property itself is 11 acres in extent, and is well treed. There is a variety of sites available for summer cottages, and the property is capable of considerable expansion. The present owner has been in business for 10 years, and has built up a very good business. Will consider trade for city property. Price $38,000 or will sell the business separately as going concern. RETAIL BAKERY AND CONFECTIONERY ON JASPER AVENUE

Producing a variety of confections in great demand in today's Edmonton. The business also offers a wide scope for wholesale production as the excellent modern equipment is in operation 8 hours of the day only. The premises, which are in a first-class location, consist of Front Retail Store and Bake Shop at the rear. The equipment, all of which is in tip-top condition, would take $20,000 to replace. The price for everything is $15,500, which includes $1,500 worth of stock. The rent at $190 monthly is low and the lease arrangements good.

The terms available are $8,000 cash and balance by arrangement suitable to Purchaser and Vendor.

Sealed Tenders

UNIVERSITY OF ALBERTA

The Board of Governors of the University of Alberta invites sealed tenders on the installation of approximately thirty-one hundred (3100) feet of ground electrical raceway, with manholes, on the University campus.

Tenders shall be addressed to the Bursar at the University of Alberta and will be received up till Noon of Wednesday, July 5th, 1950.

Plans and specifications may be obtained at the office of the Bursar on receipt of a deposit of fifteen ($15.00) dollars.

A marked cheque in the amount of ten per cent of the contract price must accompany each tender. The lowest or any tender will not necessarily be accepted.

J. M. WHIDDEN,
Bursar,
University of Alberta.
Edmonton, Alberta,
June 22nd, 1950

Notice to Creditors and Claimants

In the Estate of EVERETT CLYDE ETHRIDGE, late of the City of Edmonton, in the Province of Alberta, Deceased, (Manager).

NOTICE is hereby given that all persons having claims upon the estate of the above named Everett Clyde Ethridge, who died on June 4th, 1950, are required to file with Messrs. OIL

Interest Centreing North Of Leduc

By C. V. Myers
Bulletin Oil Editor

The area five miles north of the Leduc field continues to demand increasing attention in Alberta oil circles.

North Woodbend No. 1 a wildcat by Anglo Home, C & E and Imperial is the highest-logging well encountered in all the Leduc-Woodbend experience, contacting the D-3 180 feet above the Leduc water line.

The previous high well—Imperial No. 3—hit D-3 about 150 feet above the water line. About 110 feet of the section was gas cap.

HIGHEST GRAVITY OIL

The Pacific British Dominion Woodbend No. 1, two and one half miles northeast, has struck the highest gravity oil since Turner Valley.

This well had a 2,300 foot rise in a seven foot section of Lower Cretaceous, has now cored another seven feet.

It will core through to the base of the Lower Cretaceous and complete. Within 90 days the group will drill a second well to search for D-3.

These developments falling on top of one another have stimulated the keenest interest in Leduc since the days of its early extensions.

COMPARISON MADE

The Woodbend No. 1 is being compared to Imperial No. 3 which hit the height of the Leduc reef just before it dropped off sharply to the north and to the east.

Geologists say the green shale was thickening up in the Woodbend wildcat and may indicate that the drop off will occur not more than two locations to the east and to the north. But the implication is that the prospects to the north and northwest and to the south and southwest are extremely good.

If this reasoning is correct it may mean that not more than half the 960 acre block pooled by the independents and Imperial will be productive.

NORTH OF GROUP

The wildcat is three and one-half miles due north of the Anglo, Home C. & E. group of 26 wells. Imperial owns all eleven intervening sections for three miles east and west and three and one-half miles north and south.

Imperial owns the south half of section 29 immediately west of the 960-acre block. The north half of this section is owned by Home, the northeast quarter, and the Anglo, the northwest quarter. Section 32, cornering the block on the northwest, which looks highly promising, is owned by Home, the south half and the northwest quarter, and Anglo the northeast quarter.

Section 31 adjoining on the west is owned by the two companies in like manner.

OWNED BY HOME

Section 30 adjoining to the south is owned by Home, the north half, Anglo, the south half.

These four solid sections immediately west and north are owned by Home two and a quarter sections, Anglo one section, Imperial one-half section, and Anglo and Home jointly one-quarter section.

The well tested Thursday 5,203 to 5,205 feet and got 6,500,000 cubic feet of gas. With D33 contact at 5,149, the well was 101 feet into the gas cap, still 78 feet above the Leduc water line. The Leduc oil column was 38 feet thick.

The D-3 has risen 67 feet in the space of one mile from Imperial No. 12, almost due south.

Apart from elevation, Woodbend No. 1 is a record breaker. It is the first well to flow oil in the Cretaceous and to become commercial in D-3 as well.

The Pacific British Dominion Woodbend well is a record breaker for gravity of oil in north of Turner Valley and its favorable elevation enhances prospects for Devonian prospects below.

Interest in this well and the section are: Pacific 46 2/3, New British Dominion one-sixth, Calgary group one-sixth, Calvan one-eighth, Tower 7½ per cent, all of 70 per cent originally owned by Pacific. Imperial has 30 per cent.
